SAME OLD STORY OF PAIN: INDIA FALL SHORT BY FIVE RUNS

In a familiar story against Australia in World Cups, India, needing 173 to advance to the final, were in control before losing their way

LOSING FROM A COMMANDING POSITION

When Jemimah Rodrigues and Harmanpreet Kaur were batting in the middle, it felt like game over for Australia. India were cruising at 9 RPO. But then, it all came down crumbling as they always do. Rodrigues edged a bouncer to the keeper and Kaur's bat got stuck while running and was caught short. From thereon, Australia just clawed their way back.

LITTLE THINGS THE DIFFERENCE

- India, without the services of Pooja Vastrakar after an illness, will rue the missed chances. They dropped two catches and the ground fielding could have also been a touch better
- Australia, who weren't at their best, remained calm, trusted in their methods and their experience came through in the end | P19

Raipur-bound Khera held, freed

SC directs interim bail to the Cong leader, who was arrested for his alleged insult of the PM

UJWAL JALALI @ New Delhi

CONGRESS leader Pawan Khera was on Thursday arrested over his alleged remarks against Prime Minister Narendra Modi amid high drama after he was deplaned from a flight to Raipur. However, the party quickly approached the Supreme Court, which directed his release on interim bail.

"In order to protect the petitioner until such date he applies for regular bail before the jurisdictional court upon the FIRs being transferred to one jurisdiction, the petitioner shall be released on bail by the Magistrate where he will be produced in Delhi," a bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and justices M R Shah and P S Narasimha said.

However, the CJI warned Khera, saying: "We have protected you, but there must be some level of discourse." Khera was then taken to the Dwarka court, which formally granted interim bail.

The drama began earlier in the day after Congress leaders, including Khera, boarded Indigo flight 6E 204 to attend the party's plenary session in Raipur that is due to begin on Friday. Khera was informed by an airline official that his baggage has some problem as it has been tagged wrongly. "I told them I am not carrying any baggage but just a single handbag," Khera said.

Nevertheless, he was asked to alight. "When I came down, I was told that I cannot go and that a Delhi Police DCP will meet me," Khera said.

A senior Delhi Police official, speaking to this newspaper, said they were acting on a request from Assam Police to assist them in arresting Khera.

A case had been lodged against him at Dima Hasao police station in Assam's Haflong district for alleged insulting remarks against the prime minister during a media briefing.

The FIR was registered under sections 53 B (imputations, assertions prejudicial to national interest), 500 (punishment for defamation) and 504 (intentional insult).

Several Congress leaders staged a protest at the airport tarmac, raising slogans against the PM. Senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said three separate FIRs have been lodged against Khera. "These days whenever BJP wants to get any opposition leader arrested, Assam's CM gets active and an FIR is registered in some distant place in Assam. We saw the same thing happen with Jignesh Mewani," he said.

The BJP hit back saying Congress leaders should not live in this misconception that they were above the law.

Araga: Spike in crime rate despite economic growth

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ONE would believe that as education and financial status improved, crime would decline. However, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said in the state Assembly on Thursday that the state was witnessing an increase in crime rate even as education and economic conditions of the people were improving.

"It is unfortunate that as and when people are getting educated and their financial condition improves, the number of crimes are also increasing," he said while expressing concern.

Assembly Speaker Vishveshwara Hegde Kageri, too agreed, saying crimes are increasing with improvement in education.

The Home Department data shows the number of crimes, especially those registered under Indian Penal Code (IPC), went up by 14,000 every year in the last three years, while the increase was around 4,000 in cases registered under Special Local Laws (SLL) and Cyber Crimes.

The home minister also concurred with Congress MLA from Hanur, R Narendra's views on the low rate of conviction. Responding to the debate initiated by Narendra, the minister said they are taking several measures to ensure better investigation and improvement in conviction rate. Earlier, cases were coming up for trials after three years due to various reasons, including delays in getting the forensic science laboratory reports. To address that concern, the government increased the number of forensic science labs. Apart from this, the state government has also appointed Scene of Crime Officers (SOCO). P4

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman greets US Treasury Secretary Janet L Yellen during a G20 meeting in Bengaluru on Thursday | EXPRESS

Global eco in better place today: Yellen

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

LAUDING collective work, US Secretary of Treasury Janet L Yellen said on Thursday that the global economy is in a better place today than many had predicted just a few months ago. Taking part in the first Finance Ministers and Central Bank Government (FMCBG) and second Finance and Central Bank Deputies (FCBD) meeting held in Bengaluru as part of G20 events, Janet said, "Many were worried about a sharp economic slowdown across the world. The challenges we face are real, and the future is always uncertain. But the outlook has improved. In its most recent estimates, the IMF forecasts global growth of 3.2 per cent during 2023 – a notable upgrade from its October report."

She said the progress in the global macro economy was a result of collective work which further underscores the importance of redoubling efforts to go forward, adding, forums like the G20 were important for macroeconomic cooperation.

Janet also held a meeting with Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in which the two exchanged ideas on the finance track priorities and the energy transition partnerships. They also discussed at length the global debt vulnerabilities, crypto assets and the health sector, besides discussing lessons learnt from the pandemic and the need for enhanced preparedness to handle any such situations in future.

Janet also used the platform to say, "Tomorrow is the one-year mark of Russia's illegal and unjustified full-scale invasion of Ukraine. One year later, Putin's war has been a strategic failure for the Kremlin. Ukraine still stands and NATO and our global coalition are united behind it."

She added that the US has committed over $13 billion in humanitarian and food security assistance. It has also rallied international financial institutions to implement an action plan to address food security.

Biden nominates former Mastercard boss Banga as World Bank president

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

US President Joe Biden on Thursday nominated Indian-American executive and former Mastercard chief Ajay Banga (63) for the post of World Bank president. The vacancy arose after incumbent David Malpass announced his early exit last week.

Biden's surprise announcement came hours after Prime Minister Narendra Modi met Malpas here. They discussed India's goal to achieve and sustain 8% growth as it approaches the 100th anniversary of its Independence in 2047.

The World Bank has started accepting candidate nominations, adding women candidates would be strongly encouraged.

President Biden heaped praises on Banga, saying he is uniquely equipped to lead the World Bank at this critical moment in history. "He has spent more than three decades building and managing successful, global companies that create jobs and bring investment to developing economies, and guiding organizations through periods of fundamental change," said Biden.

"Raised in India, Ajay has a unique perspective on the opportunities and challenges facing developing countries and how the World Bank can deliver," Biden added.

Born in Pune and an alumnus of St Stephen's College in Delhi and the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, Banga had earlier worked in top global companies such as Nestle, PepsiCo and Citi. His global recognition came when Mastercard in 2010 appointed him as president and chief executive officer. He spearheaded the payment processing company successfully for over a decade.

New IISc study could help protect aircraft from lightning

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A TEAM of IISc researchers has developed a new way to simulate how lightning hits an aircraft. The team believes this will help in providing better protection to aircraft against lightning.

Prof Udaya Kumar of IISc's Department of Electrical Engineering, who headed the team said, "Usually, an aircraft is hit by lightning once every 1,000 hours. There've been many incidents in the last century when the impact of lightning has been catastrophic." In 90 per cent of the cases, lightning strikes on an aircraft are self-invited when it is flying through a highly energised cloud which means the aircraft is the cause of the lightning strike. The research will help in understanding how the lightning disrupts the aircraft's electrical systems which could lead to catching fire or explosion.

"Kumar and his team realised that the current approach to this identification was grossly oversimplified. They set out to develop a more comprehensive computational model which can be applied to two different aircraft geometries: A DC10 passenger aircraft and the SDM fighter aircraft model. It involves extensive computation of electric field around the aircraft and suitable modelling of the electrical discharges," an IISc statement said. "Kumar's lab has also carried out a first-of-its-kind experiment on a small military aircraft by injecting it with enormous amounts of current and by collecting data from inside the craft," the IISc stated.

NEW FLYOVER SENDS SUBURBAN RAIL CORRIDOR INTO REWORK MODE

Graveyard, slum colony, which come in the route of Mallige Line, yet to be cleared

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A double-decker structure is being planned with the flyover on one level and the railway line above it | EXPRESS

> There are more than 200 private buildings yet to be assessed and compensation to be paid has not been worked out. It includes a place of worship as well as a graveyard. Relocating is expected to be met with stiff resistance - A source

THE announcement of a new flyover from Yesvantpur railway station to Mathikere and BEL Road in the state budget last week has now forced the only suburban rail corridor, whose work had commenced recently, to go back to the drawing board again as the flyover comes in the way of the Mallige Line alignment, which needs to be redesigned, said sources.

The line runs for 25.01 km from Baiyappanahalli terminal to Chikkabanavara (second corridor) of the Rs 15,767-crore Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP).

The 148-km project is being implemented by K-RIDE.

A top source said, "The proposed flyover in the budget will run between the Yesvantpur and Lottegollahalli stations of the BSRP for almost a kilometre. Our plan has to be reworked now. We have received an intimation from the BBMP regarding the flyover." A double-decker structure is being contemplated with the flyover on one level and the railway line above it, he explained. The final decision will be taken by K-RIDE and BBMP jointly, the source added.

Graveyard and slums yet to be cleared, though the Railways has made 157 acres of land available for the project. Asked the slow pace of work, another source said, "There are more than 200 private buildings yet to be assessed and compensation to be paid has not been worked out. It includes a place of worship as well as a graveyard. Relocating is expected to be met with stiff resistance."

There are around 300 families residing in a slum on Mohan Kumar Road, and the government needs to rehabilitate them soon, he added. Only 30% of land where work can actually take place is available, which was severely hampering progress. A railway source said, "Soil testing, levelling of ground and installation of a concrete plant have been completed by the contractor L&T Ltd. Around 20% of Signalling and Telecommunication cables have been shifted so far. They will be carrying out piling work for 200m near Hebbal where land is available."

While three letters been submitted in connection with tree cutting and transplanting, only one circular has been cleared. "Two circulars about the need to cut and relocate 2,000 trees are yet to be approved," another source said. It is doubtful if the line will meet its December 2024 deadline. K-RIDE MD Gaurav Gupta did not respond to calls.

CM: Govt will protect BDA, BBMP assets

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the government will take steps to protect the properties of the BDA and BBMP.

In the legislative council on Thursday, JDS MLC Marithibbegowda raised the issue related to Devarachikkanahalli in Bengaluru South taluk, where 3.23 acres of land of acquired by the BDA in 1990. "In 1996, a layout of 50 sites was formed and sites were distributed to only seven people. In 2016, there was a court order saying there were lapses in the project and today land grabbers have taken over the property which is worth Rs. 500 crore. There should be an investigation into this and the officials who are involved in this," the MLC said.

In reply, CM Bommai admitted that there were no serious efforts to protect BDA and BBMP properties on which there are cases in courts of law. "This has to change. I will order a probe into this particular matter and direct officials to approach the court immediately," he added.

WILL NOT LET B'LURU TURN GARBAGE CITY

Meanwhile, Bommai fumed at Congress MLC PR Ramesh when the latter was asking a question related to garbage management in the city and said garbage was dumped for about 500m on Magadi Road and there would be garbage everywhere in the city if the same situation continues. "Just because there is some issue at some place, it does not mean the problem is there in the entire city. We will not let such a thing happen to Bengaluru," he said.

CM warns of action based on report

ENS @ Bengaluru

HITTING back at Congress, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that since the party has been making baseless allegations of corruption against the state government without any evidence, the accused in the Arkavathy Layout denotification case will be prosecuted based on Justice Kempanna commission report.

Leaders were embroiled in a heated debate in the Assembly over Arkavathy Layout redo. Deputy leader of opposition UT Khader and KJ George locking horns with Bommai.

Countering Leader of opposition Siddaramaiah's claim that not an inch of land was denotified in the Arkavathy Layout, Bommai informed that Justice Kempanna report had mentioned the loss caused to the state, and the government had identified 805 acres of land under redo. The commission had observed that it was done for vested interest and the Layout's formation has been a scam. "Why did the Siddaramaiah-led government hush up the report when it came before the Cabinet," Bommai asked.

Premji varsity to take action against protesting students

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AMID ongoing protests at Azim Premji University (APU), the university has stated that it will take strict action against the students.

While the university has refused to comment on the issue of the protesting students, an internal email shared with TNIE stated that the university would take individual action against the students. They have been protesting for the past week, demanding that APU waive the fee imposed on first-year postgraduate students for using shuttle buses provided by the university.

Students have asked the Rs 8,500 per semester fee be waived as the bus facility was introduced as a safety measure against sexual harassment when students travelled between the university and the student housing.

Responding to the students' demands, APU Vice-Chancellor Indu Prasad sent an internal email to the student body, alleging that the students had physically intimidated and restrained her and others. "In addition, some students have spread information on social media and violated the code of conduct around that as well... The University will not tolerate any such threatening behaviour. The students engaged in this will be identified and serious disciplinary action will be taken against them," she stated in the email.

Meanwhile, speaking to TNIE, the students rejected the accusations, alleging there had been no physical intimidation. "The most we did was approach her directly and gheraoed her, as we had been protesting for a week asking for an open discussion into the issue. With regard to social media, we had done a Twitter storm to bring more awareness, following which our accounts were immediately suspended," they said.

24th February: There's a massive amount of activity in the celestial spheres at the moment. When the astral omens are so volatile, I take this as a sign that people on earth should make compromise and co-operation their watchwords. If confrontation leads to conflict, then there's no knowing where it might end.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Your long-term planetary picture indicates no let-up in major worldly pressures. However, today's short-term alignment urges you to get up and go, leaving behind all those ties which are holding you back. You're a person in a hurry, and partners need to recognise that.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Even those of you who are not currently pre-occupied by work, must keep routine and domestic chores to the fore. Hold whatever discussions are necessary and see to it that partners and colleagues approve your intentions. I know it's a busy moment, but you'll manage just fine.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
These may be hectic and decisive days at home. There's no time to waste even if other people are urging you to compromise or be more flexible. Try to be cool and logical and don't get sucked into emotional confrontations, especially if they are likely to make a difficult situation worse.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Your solar chart is a rather special one at the moment, mainly because you are basking under a stimulating set of alignments. New contacts are doing so much for your imagination, expanding your horizons. Yet you must never under-estimate the potential obstacles which may be placed in your path.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
You are now in the fortunate position of being able to realise certain dreams, especially those concerned with the very mundane field of work. You may be tempted towards fulfilling the ideal of service to the community. Deep inside you're in a somewhat saintly mood!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There is still plenty of time to sort out your financial affairs. This is an ideal week to work out how to acquire extra funds. It's not a matter of luck, but of receiving the rewards you deserve. Plus, social stars beckon, so make sure you treat your friends well!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's not other people who are difficult to handle, it's your own deep anger and resentment going back years to the imagined slights and hurts of the past. Don't let such feelings spoil what could be a happy period. A short journey could offer a valuable distraction from more weighty matters.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You might find something out in a roundabout manner. Ironically, you may discover that there is in fact nothing to know, and that your hopes, fears or concerns were but a mirage. But, then, that is so often the case! Hopefully you'll be suitably relieved.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Emotionally the ball is still in your court. This means that other people may be dependent on your goodwill but that in return you have certain obligations to discharge on their behalf. Anyway, you're still very much in the lead, cosmically speaking.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There's a great deal going on behind the scenes, in addition to other events which may be only half explained. There is much to find out before you can push ahead with important personal plans. How and when you make your secrets public is a matter for your discretion.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Let's look at the long-term for a change: more than ever, this is a time to boost your physical well-being through judicious changes in your diet and improvements in your exercise regime. Over the next three months, you will receive more offers and opportunities than you could ever have expected.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Your work requires your undivided attention. Don't worry about details, but focus on the broad picture. You still have much to achieve, even in terms of your personal interests and activities. This is very much a moment to take your full place in the wider community.

MAHE SUSPENDS 42 STUDENTS OVER DRUGS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

WITH an internal probe underway into the drug menace affecting MAHE, Manipal, the institution has suspended 42 students of various courses for a period of one month.

Sources said that these 42 students were recently booked by Manipal police for illegal drug consumption, following which the MAHE administration decided to suspend them.

Though the illegal drug consumption cases were sporadic until recent years, there has been a sudden surge in drug peddling and consumption, particularly in Manipal and surrounding areas. Students have been the victims of the menace in most cases, which prompted the police to go tough against violators. In an awareness programme held in Udupi a few months ago, a senior citizen, who stays in a flat in Manipal, had complained to the police about some students allegedly consuming drugs next to his door.

A communique from MAHE stated that it observed that a few students had fallen prey to drugs. "These students have been subjected to internal investigation as per MAHE's zero tolerance policy against substance abuse. They have been suspended until the completion of the internal investigation," it said.

Sources said that those students have now been referred to the MAHE student counsellor for help. Udupi SP Akshay M Hakay said that a list of students, who engaged in drug trafficking and consumption in the last three months, was given to MAHE after their narco-analysis test result came positive, based on which, MAHE suspended them, he said.

Shah in city, citizens fume over traffic woes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH Union Home Minister Amit Shah's arrival in Bengaluru on Thursday, citizens came down heavily on the traffic restrictions like ban on parking on either side of the road in several areas, and commuters being asked to take alternative routes. A traffic advisory was issued on February 23.

Srinivas Alavilli, a civic activist, said as the elections are approaching, ministers and top leaders will be frequenting the state, and every time, citizens should not be asked to adjust. He suggested that alternative routes be made for the chief guests rather than asking the public to avoid other routes instead.

An angry citizens said that the city has ample traffic problems and diverting traffic on key roads and junctions for two days will only mount the suffering of commuters.

Professor MN Sreehari, a traffic expert, said that the issue only arises because there is no provision for proper parking facilities, neither there are any parallel roads, hence, it gets difficult for traffic police to find alternative routes. Ideally, parking should not be allowed on the road, but as there is a lack of facilities, they are left with no choice, he added.

ROBOTIC HEART VALVE SURGERY A SUCCESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A complex robotic heart valve replacement surgery gave a new lease of life to a 60-year-old patient who was diagnosed with a calcific aortic valve (calcium deposits on the heart valve) with severe stenosis (narrowing of heart valves). His heart was significantly dysfunctional and required early heart valve replacement. Additionally, he was suffering from a chest wall deformity -- scoliosis with crowding of ribs, making his condition more complex.

Dr Sathyaki Nambala, chief cardiac surgeon at Apollo Hospital, Bannerghatta Road, explained that robotics helps give a three-dimensional, high resolution, magnified view of the inside of the heart, making it easier for surgeons to fix the valve with utmost precision. No blood loss or requirement of blood is seen during the procedure, which is almost painless with no risk of infection.

Dr K Hari Prasad, president, Bannerghatta division, said, "Cardiovascular disorders happen to be one of the leading causes of fatalities in our country, and robotic surgeries to treat complex cardiac conditions with precision and fast recovery, are a revolutionary step towards cardiac care." Apollo Hospitals became the first hospital to perform such a surgery.

Key beneficiary in bank fraud caught

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has arrested Rajesh VR in the case of Sri Guru Raghavendra Sahakara Bank Niyamitha, under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, in connection with "misappropriation of public deposits of more than Rs 1,000 crore", the ED stated in an official release on Thursday.

The designated court in Bengaluru remanded him in three days' ED custody. "Rajesh is the major beneficiary of the fund, which was siphoned off from the bank in connivance with the management. As per the RBI's inspection report, he had availed of loans of Rs 40.40 crore from banks and not repaid them," the Central agency added. Investigation had revealed that there are multiple FIRs against Rajesh and his wife in case of public fraud committed by them in other cooperative banks/societies too.

"They are habitual offenders. Earlier, an ECIR was recorded by the ED on the basis of an FIR registered under various sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) and Section 9 of the Karnataka Protection of Interest Depositors in Financial Establishments (KPIDFE) Act, 2004, by Bengaluru police against the bank and others," the agency stated. Earlier, the directorate had attached the properties of the accused, valued at Rs 45.32 crore. The same was confirmed by the Adjudicating Authority (PMLA), New Delhi, on March 10, 2021.

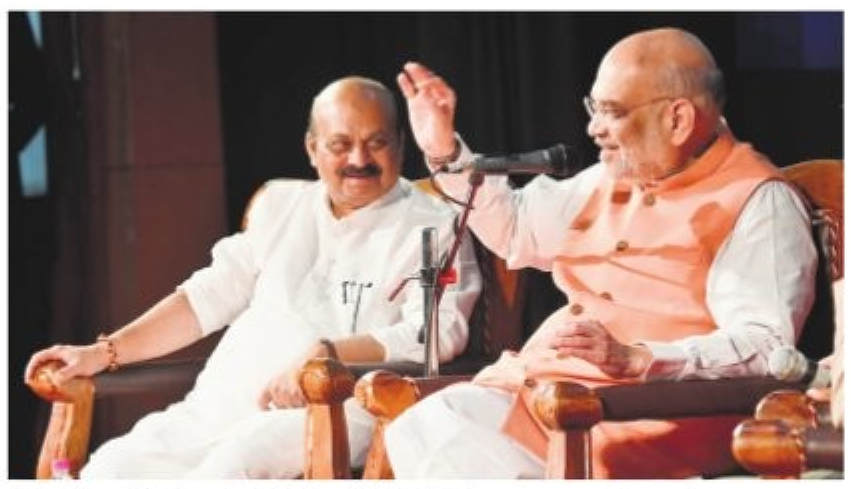
Home Minister says in last nine years, politics shifted from privilege to potential



Union Home Minister Amit Shah and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai at an event at Town Hall in Bengaluru on Thursday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

ENFORCEMENT Directorate (ED) raids on the corrupt are part of the Centre's mission to put an end to corruption. Unfortunately, the Modi government is blamed for the good work it is doing under the anti-corruption law that has scope for imprisonment, Home Minister Amit Shah said here on Thursday.

Replying to charges of 40 per cent commission by the contractors' association president D Kempanna against Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, Shah said the BJP has zero-tolerance for corruption. He was addressing an event, 'Indian polity: 65 year scenario and paradigm shift under PM Modi' at Town Hall.

"I don't claim that corruption at the higher levels was completely done away with after 2014. But the Prime Minister has reduced corruption at various levels by using technology, as benefits are transferred directly to the bank accounts of the poor and farmers," he claimed. Modi also checked corruption in donations to political parties, as more than Rs 2,000 cannot be given in cash, he added.

On the 'hijab' row, Shah claimed that in order to maintain cultural equality, there should be a dress code in schools, and applies to both hijab and bhagwa (saffron cloth). He clarified that opposition to the National Register of Citizens (NRC) will not last long, as the NRC is not about withdrawing one's citizenship but giving citizenship to Hindus, Sikhs, Jains and Buddhists living in neighbouring countries.

"The farm bills have been withdrawn so they can be implemented after taking the stakeholders into confidence," he stated.

In the last nine years, politics shifted from privilege to potential, as opportunities were not given on the basis of families, and budget allocations were not made to appease particular communities, he remarked.

He advised voters not to vote only for individuals. "If you vote for an individual, you are likely to make mistakes... But if you consider both the party and leader, you are likely to select the right government," he said.

Thrust for Bengaluru

Shah said the Centre will consider granting adequate funds to develop Bengaluru's infrastructure, as CM Basavaraj Bommai has submitted a proposal for comprehensive development of the city to the urban development ministry. The party has trained its sights on city constituencies, political observers said.

Karnataka will become corruption-free if BJP voted to power: HM

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Sandur

HOME Minister Amit Shah on Thursday said if the BJP wins the Karnataka assembly polls with a full majority, the state will be made corruption-free, and number one in South India in terms of development.

Addressing a Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra here on Thursday, Shah expressed confidence that going by the response the party has been getting, it will get a full majority, and said he has full trust in the people of Karnataka.

Recalling the performance of the BJP governments in the state, Shah said then chief minister B S Yediyurappa and current CM Basavaraj Bommai have implemented umpteen pro-poor programmes and their policies touch every section of society to grow socially and economically.

Lashing out at the Congress, Shah said party leader Siddaramaiah and his government acted like an ATM for leaders sitting in Delhi. While the Narendra Modi government imposed a ban on the Popular Front of India, the previous Siddaramaiah government had withdrawn hundreds of cases filed against the PFI.

The Modi government displayed its resolve against Pakistan-sponsored terrorism by conducting surgical and air strikes, but the Manmohan Sigh government never reacted against Pakistan, he said, adding that the country is much safer in the hands of Modi.

Taking a swipe at the JDS, the BJP strongman said every vote to HD Deve Gowda's party will be counted as that of the Congress, so people should be cautious while exercising their franchise. Dubbing the JDS and Congress as family-driven parties, he said the BJP is the solution for development of the state, particularly Kalyana Karnataka.

Former CM Yediyurappa said, "As there are still a couple of months, I will tour the entire state to ensure the party wins over 150 seats and forms the government with a thumping majority. The BJP will seek a mandate on its government's performance."

Transport Minister B Sriramulu said the public response to Shah's rally will ensure the party wins all ten assembly segments of undivided Ballari district, including Sandur.

'Ready to contest from Sandur'

Sriramulu expressed his wish to contest from Sandur constituency. He told reporters, "I am ready to contest from two seats, including one in Ballari district. If I get a chance to contest from Sandur ST reserved seat, the BJP will win for the first time, but the decision is left to the party leadership."

Started seeing lower headline inflation: Janet

THE US has also worked with other countries to avoid export restrictions and enable food to move freely including through the Black Sea Grain Initiative.

On the progress on macro economy and mitigating spill overs from Russia's war, she said, "Year on year, the headline on inflation has moderated as the supply chain pressures have eased and global imbalance has subsidised. At the same time the labour market has remained strong. She added that in January, US' unemployment had hit a low, not seen in over half a century.

Janet added, "During our meetings there was a shared view among my counterparts that we must take decisive action on the challenges that we face in our own countries. That includes combating high inflation where it exists. It was also important to be attentive to the spillovers of macroeconomic tightening from major economies to the rest of the world. While there's much more work to do, we are beginning to see lower headline inflation around the globe."

NO DOCTOR WILLING TO SERVE IN RURAL AREAS: LEGISLATORS

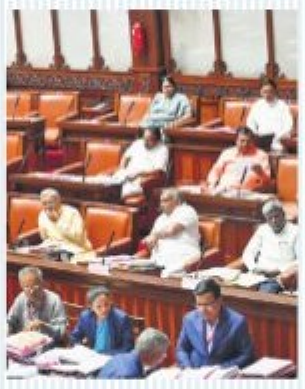
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CUTTING across party lines, MLAs raised the issue of doctors being not available at Primary Health Centres and hospitals in rural areas. They even demanded increasing the salary of doctors and giving security at their workplace.

During the question hour, Speaker Vishveshwara Hegde Kageri said new doctors wants to work in urban areas and not in any Primary Health Centres in villages. "These doctors are graduates from reputed institutes, they are responsible people. Many MLAs are facing this issue of lack of doctors. The mindset of these doctors has to change. Students and teachers from medical colleges has to be motivated. Even the government spends money on them and their education. They also should have some mind for service mind," he said.

Replying to the house, Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar said as per the World Health Organisation, there should be one doctor for a population of every 1,000. But in India, it is 1,400 people. Things are changing as more number of medical colleges for graduation and post graduation is increasing. "In Karnataka, we have recruited doctors for PHCs. But doctors are not going, especially to North Karnataka. We need to conduct counselling for deputation of doctors, similar to posting of teachers," he said.

11,914 cases of GST evasion unearthed: Bommai



Bengaluru: Chief Minister Bommai said the state government has introduced stringent measures to crack down on networks that are evading the Goods and Services Tax (GST) and has unearthed 11,914 such cases. Replying to a question in the Legislative Council on Thursday, Bommai said vigilance squads have put in place better tax collection measures that resulted in more revenues. Giving an example of the increase in tax revenues, the CM said from the areca trade alone, it has gone up by around Rs 8 crore a day. He also said that the scrap that landed at Mangaluru port reached Delhi and other parts of the country, but no tax was collected. "But now, it is fetching Rs 800-1,000 crore revenue annually," Bommai said. ENS

Experts to collect evidence from crime scene, says Araga

"WHEN rape or murder cases are reported, sub-inspector goes to the spot and collects evidence. But now we are making an attempt to collect evidence through experts, that is why we have appointed 206 SOCO who got special training from Gujarat FSL University. In the coming days, the state government will depute one SOCO in each taluk," he said.

The department also strengthened teams investigating cyber crimes. "Our officers file FIR and submit chargesheet, but if there is no conviction, police are disappointed. This also encourages criminals," he said. The minister said this year alone the government is constructing police stations at a cost of Rs 200 crore at various places.

Kageri said if the state government has taken these measures to crack down on crime, the state jails will get filled.

The home minister said they are constructing a new jail at Shivamogga along with an additional barrack in all Central jails.

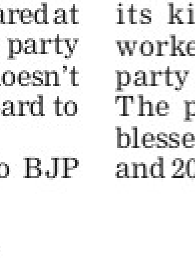
Santhosh turns tutor, gives poll tips

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

WITH elections fast approaching, the BJP, that wants to retain Karnataka with an absolute majority, feels the political atmosphere favours the saffron party. BJP leaders and workers who had lost hope last August and September, when the Congress was making serious allegations, have recovered fast and are confident of winning the polls, with promises in the Union and State budgets, allocation of Rs 5000 cr for the Bhadra project, besides other programmes.

BJP General Secretary (Organisation) B L Santhosh said the Congress, that made serious allegations during media briefings, has failed to approach constitutional bodies like the Lokayukta, Anti-Corruption Bureau or courts.

He said that Opposition leader Siddaramaiah has not lodged a complaint with police or court to substantiate corruption charges levelled against the government. He claimed the Congress is a divided house, with differences between DK Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah, due to which the party has not announced its candidate list.



"The Congress always chanted the name of Tipu Sultan and not Krishnaraja Wadiyar or other warriors. The Lingayat party came to power to instal Kempe Gowda's statue in Bengaluru," Santhosh claimed.

Taking a jibe at the JDS, he said the party list is prepared at home, and signed by the party president at home, as it doesn't have a parliamentary board to decide on candidates.

Issuing a warning to BJP workers, he said they should look at elections as a battle, and not share bonhomie with rival parties like the JDS, especially in Mysuru, where the BJP needs to elect more MLAs. "The fate of the BJP will be decided by the workers, and PM Narendra Modi has said that only with an absolute majority can the party implement what it wants," Santhosh said.

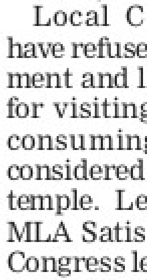
Referring to Home Minister Amit Shah's rally in Mandya, he said the BJP decision to hold a mega rally here has shocked and worried the JDS and Congress. The regional party feels it has the district in its kitty, he added. "Every worker should see to it that party candidates are elected. The people of the state are blessed to face elections in 2023 and 2024," he said.

Row over Ravi having fish, visiting temple

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @Karwar

BJP national general secretary and Chikkamagaluru MLA C T Ravi allegedly visiting a temple in Bhatkal after having fish meal is turing into a big issue with Congress leaders turning on the heat on him.

Five years ago, he had targeted the then chief minister Siddaramaiah for visiting the Dharmasthala temple after eating fish, and now the BJP leader is finding himself in a similar muddle. He has been accused of eating meat and entering the 500-year-old Karibanta Hanuman temple in Bhatkal.



On the backfoot, Ravi clarified that he did not enter the temple, but some pictures and videos of him having lunch at Bhatkal MLA Sunil Naik's house and standing in the temple are now doing the rounds. "I am a non-vegetarian and I do not deny eating meat, but I did not visit any temple," he said. He said he did not enter Nagabana in Shorali and offered prayers from outside. "I do eat meat. I belong to a meat-eating community. I am not among those who will mock our practices. The temple was locked. There is an unnecessary controversy over this," he said.

Local Congress leaders have refused to buy this argument and lashed out at Ravi for visiting the temple after consuming meat which is considered as desecrating the temple. Leaders like former MLA Satish Sail and senior Congress leader Mankal Vaidya slammed Ravi, questioning his actions. "He was at the helm of the attack when there were allegations against former chief minister Siddaramaiah. Now what morality does he have to preach about ethics?" said Sail.

No takers for hostels constructed for SC/ST students, points out CAG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Higher Education Department, which constructed hostels for Schedule Caste and Schedule Tribe students, are lying vacant as it did not make any facilities for boarding. The Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) report, which was tabled on Thursday, called the hostels "unfruitful". According to the report, the Directorate of Technical Education had given construction of hostel work for SCs and STs to the Karnataka Rural Infrastructure Development Limited (KRIDL) without calling for tenders in March 2014. Even in March 2021, out of 44 hostels, only 31 were completed. Even though funds were released in advance, work was incomplete and the department failed to insist KRIDL to finish them. As an obligatory responsibility, all the hostels maintained by the state government has to provide both lodging and boarding to rural poor inmates. "However, the hostels constructed by them did not intent to provide the basic requirement of free food. This is why poly technical students did not respond to admission in these hostels," the report pointed out.

The report also said the expenditure of Rs 43.82 crore incurred for providing exclusive benefits to students belonging to SC and ST communities was tendered largely unfruitful. But the issue did not end here. "Despite the fact that the already constructed hostel buildings could not be put to use for the intended purpose, the department, in its action plan, proposed construction of additional rooms in 43 out of 44 hostels at an estimated cost of Rs 27.9 crore. The action plan was also approved without any checking. The state government accorded to construct six additional rooms in each hostel of 31 completed hostels at a cost of Rs 90 lakh per hostel, amount of Rs 27.90 crore, of which Rs 20.77 crore has been released to the Karnataka Housing Board (KHB).

The report also said the department released funds of Rs 64.59 crore for construction and extension of hostel buildings which did not intent to serve basic free food was injudicious and failed to benefit the targeted community due to non-responsiveness of students.

SC verdict on EPS boost for AIADMK

AIADMK cadres garland party leader Edappadi K Palaniswami in Madurai on Thursday | K K SUNDAR

THE Supreme Court verdict upholding the continuation of Edappadi K Palaniswami (EPS) as interim general secretary has come as a big boost for the AIADMK, as it came days ahead of the bypolls to the Erode East Assembly constituency. While EPS was elated over the verdict and said the 1.5 crore party cadres are by his side, O Panneerselvam said people would decide on whose side the cadres are throwing their weight on. He said a detailed statement would be issued on the verdict.

Presiding over the marriages of 51 couples, Palaniswami said the SC verdict has brought cheers among the cadres and relieved the tension that prevailed for the past 7-8 months.

Taking a dig at OPS without naming him, EPS charged that a few had acted as DMK's B-team. "A few traitors who acted against the party's concerns have been unmasked today," EPS said, adding that after this verdict, the claims that the AIADMK has 2-3 factions should vanish since the cadres are standing united now.

At Coimbatore, former minister KP Munusamy said Dharma has won again by the SC's historic verdict on the case, while former minister CVe Shanmugam said this verdict has cleared the way for EPS' election as the undisputed general secretary of the party.

Political analyst Tharasu Shyam said: "The SC has not settled the principal dispute - single leadership or dual leadership for the AIADMK. The SC has left this question to be decided by the Madras HC in the suits pending before it. In a nutshell, OPS has not lost everything and EPS has not gained everything. The legal battles will continue."

Meanwhile, at Trichy, AMMK general secretary TTV Dhinakaran described the verdict as a temporary victory for EPS. "This judgment cannot even ensure his victory in the upcoming Erode East by-elections," he said.

Life Mission scam: ED calls Pinarayi's addl pvt secy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kochi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) has issued notice to Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's Additional Private Secretary C M Raveendran to appear for interrogation in the Wadakkanchery Life Mission housing scam on Monday, days after it arrested M Sivasankar, the former principal secretary of the CM in the case.

Raveendran was asked to appear before the national agency at its office in Kochi.

The case pertains to money laundering behind the Life Mission Wadakkanchery housing project which was funded by UAE Red Cresent for the flood victims in 2019. The allegation is that a major portion of the fund was diverted as commission which ended up with former UAE Consulate General and employees, Sivasankar and the accused persons in the 2020 Thiruvananthapuram gold smuggling case. Sivasankar was recently arrested by ED and he is in the custody of the agency till Friday.

ED sources said that Raveendran was aware of the project and his role in the allotment of the land and selection of a construction agency Unitac Builders for the implementation of the project is being probed. From the WhatsApp chats recovered as part of the probe, it was confirmed that Sivasankar had informed Raveendran about the project. Similarly, instructions were passed to the civic body in Wadakkanchery to clear various issues linked with the project. ED also collected WhatsApp chats and emails of the gold smuggling case Swapna Suresh leading to suspicion of Raveendran's involvement in the housing project.

Raveendran was grilled by ED for long hours in connection with the Thiruvananthapuram gold smuggling case in December 2020.

HC notice to state on SC/ST quota

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has issued a notice to the state government on a public interest litigation (PIL) filed which questioned the validity of the Karnataka Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Reservation of Seats in Educational Institutions and of Appointments or Posts in the Services under the State) Act 2023.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi issued the notice after hearing the petition filed by Mahesh, a student of KLE Law College in the city, seeking to strike down the Act as unconstitutional and ultra vires Article 14, 15 and 16 of the Constitution.

Stating that he is an aspiring candidate to join the services in the state, the petitioner said that the state government increased the reservation of seats in educational institutions and appointments for posts in the services for persons belonging to SC and ST to 17 from 15 per cent, and to 7 per cent from 3 per cent respectively, by promulgating an Ordinance on October 23, 2022, and enacted the Act in January 2023.

The petitioner stated that the Act appears to be enacted on the ground that many other states have increased the reservation quota from time to time, exceeding the limit of 50 per cent (SC-17 % + ST-7% + Backward Classes-32 %), in utter disregard of the law laid down by the Supreme Court. Enforcement of the impugned Act which breaches the ceiling limit of 50 per cent reservation and provides 56 per cent reservation in educational institutions and in posts and appointments in services. It will prejudicially affect the rights of the petitioner as well as other similarly situated persons, he claimed.

Respond to plea over Upa Lokayukta posting: HC to CS

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday issued notice to Chief Secretary based on a PIL filed by Samaj Parivarthan Samudaya (SPS), seeking directions to the state government to fill the post of Upa Lokayukta which has been vacant since June 2022.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the order to issue notice after hearing the petition, represented by its president SR Hiremath, who stated that Lokayukta will be unable to fulfill its mandate due to huge pendency if Upa Lokayukta is not appointed. There is a huge increase in complaints over the years. The grievances against the government machinery are writ large and the reasons are not very difficult to perceive. The government has slept over the matter of appointing a Upa Lokayukta for the reasons best known, said the petitioner while praying that the court direct the government to appoint Upa Lokayukta soon.

UKRAINE GRAVEYARD OF SUPERPOWER PLAY ON WAR'S ANNIVERSARY

When President Vladimir Putin ordered Russia's strategic forces to go on high alert four days after he invaded Ukraine last year, there was massive global concern about nuclear conflagration. A couple of months later, Russia kept up the tempo, warning that if the conflict snowballs, it could use its full arsenal, again alluding to tactical nuclear weapons. It led to strategic analysts gaming the possible targets Putin could have in mind for dropping his atom bombs and the likely NATO retaliation. By the year-end, he appeared sober, assuring of no nuclear first use. It eased the situation a tad but established a trend of Putin playing the nuclear card whenever he found his back to the wall. His latest announcement suspending participation in the New Start nuclear arms treaty with the US fell into the same pattern, but analysts reckon it wasn't quite menacing.

After the dust finally settles, Putin would perhaps concede he had wholly misread the war's trajectory. The Ukraine of 2014, when he grabbed Crimea in a month, was different from the nation he invaded on February 24 last year. It had grown some spine with former comedian Volodomyr Zelenskyy at the helm. And its armed forces were better trained, well led and highly motivated. The solid support Zelenskyy drew from the US and NATO allies kept the war machine well fed. But credit goes to Ukrainian soldiers for putting the Western weapons to deadly use, making Russian soldiers look like jokers and reducing hundreds of their armoured tanks to junk. One year later, even the Wagner group—fighting for Russia—with highly trained mercenaries on its payroll, is finding it difficult to capture puny Bakhmut in east Ukraine with limited strategic value. Putin also failed to create war fatigue within Ukraine and among its allies though he is grappling with it big time at home. US President Joe Biden's secret visit to Kyiv added to the nation's morale. Apart from human loss, Ukraine has become an infrastructure mess with waves of missiles demolising structures, making it a graveyard of superpower ambitions. Its cost of rebuilding is now conservatively pegged at $450–550 billion.

Given the current situation, expecting peace in the short run would be foolhardy though a UN resolution has been lined up. Ultimately, it would be diplomacy rather than the barrel of the gun that would restore normalcy. But its time is yet to come.

VIOLENCE AS POLITICAL STRATEGY REPREHENSIBLE

Political violence has frequently been raising its ugly head in Andhra Pradesh, the latest being clashes between workers of the ruling YSRC and Opposition TDP cadre at Gannavaram near Vijayawada. Earlier, it appeared as though local rivalries triggered these incidents. Upon closer examination, one cannot but conclude that there could be a method to this madness.

The unsavoury episode at Gannavaram was preceded by a war of words between the leaders of the two sides. From the TDP, spokesman Pattabhiram threw the gauntlet at legislator Vallabhaneni Vamsi using language that can only be called inflammatory. Not content with that, he rushed to Gannavaram along with party workers, where the YSRC activists also gathered in good numbers. The ensuing clashes resulted in the ransacking of the TDP office. The police tried to bring the situation under control, but a circle inspector sustained head injuries in the melee. In the visuals, TDP activists could be seen charging towards the police. The police have identified those behind the attack on the TDP office and took 11, including Pattabhiram, into custody. What followed clearly betrayed the intentions of the accused. The TDP spokesman seems to have committed perjury when he complained to the local court that cops had thrashed him. A medical examination revealed he had a swollen palm, not lathi wounds on any other part. Nonetheless, alleged photos of his wounds were circulated widely, and the TDP went to town, accusing the police and calling their political rivals names.

We think the TDP is economical with the truth because in the past, too, Pattabhiram was allegedly thrashed by unidentified miscreants. Then too, the party and its sympathisers claimed political violence only to pipe down after reports of the man's personal rivalries began surfacing. Besides, videos of a TDP leader are circulating in which he is seen advising his party men to lie to the courts. If this is authentic, as it appears to be, it is unfortunate that the TDP seeks to instigate violence by resorting to provocative acts, threatening opponents and the police. And it is equally dismaying that the YSRC is taking the bait repeatedly. TDP chief N Chandrababu Naidu, during his first stint in power, had successfully stemmed political violence. Ironically, he is now losing control of even his party leaders. If this is a strategy to paint the government in poor light, it will go down as yet another of his strategic blunders.

QUICK TAKE

AI ENTERS SUPREME COURT

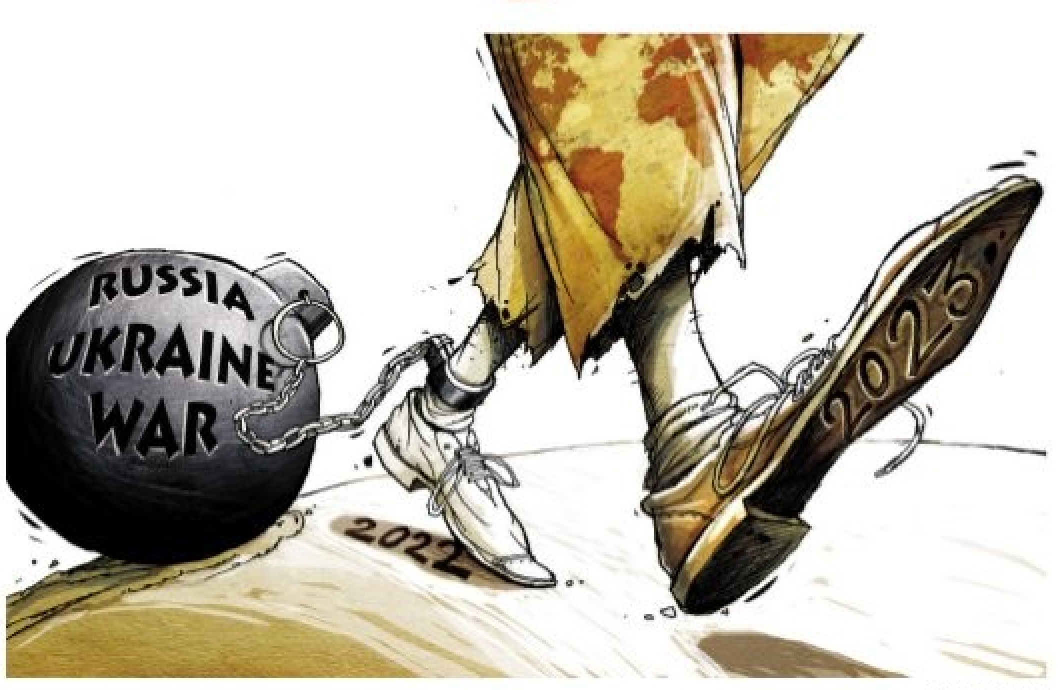
CJI D Y Chandrachud Tuesday launched in his court the experimental use of AI for live transcription of arguments. The algorithm worked well, as the transcript showed. Like judicial systems elsewhere, India must widely use AI to analyse legal data and transfer data seamlessly among agencies like courts, police and jails from one platform. At the same time, it must know how AI can be opaque enough to blip the principles of justice and the rule of law. Judicial checks and balances are imperative to ignore the lure of legal analytics and predictive justice—AI is an assistant, not a judge's substitute.

Russia, Ukraine and NATO are locked into inflexible positions that do not permit compromise sans loss of face

WAR AND PEACE IN UKRAINE ONE YEAR ON

P S RAGHAVAN

Distinguished Fellow, Vivekananda International Foundation, and a former diplomat



SOUMYADIP SINHA

Four days before the first anniversary of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, US President Joe Biden undertook an arduous journey to the war-torn country, across territory sporadically under Russian missile attack. It was the first time in living memory that a US President visited a warzone where US troops did not control the terrain and airspace. The visit was a powerful reconfirmation of continued US military, diplomatic and economic support for Ukraine's sovereignty and independence.

At another level, it is reassuring that effective deconfliction protocols exist between the US and Russia, even amid this ferocious war. US NSA Jake Sullivan said the Russians had been informed before the visit. Reliable communication channels may help to prevent a local misadventure or miscalculation from escalating to a major conflagration.

Sullivan said Biden had assured President Zelensky that his strategy of forging a coalition of countries to extend military, economic, and humanitarian support to Ukraine would endure. It has indeed been a remarkable achievement to hold such a diverse group together, persuading countries to take action and adopt policies that involved a considerable sacrifice of their immediate economic interests and, in some cases, with long-term economic consequences—as with Germany, which quietly acquiesced in the sabotage of not only the newly built Nord Stream 2 gas pipeline from Russia but also the older Nord Stream 1, which had been supplying gas for decades.

It has often been said that President Putin would have counted on Europe to be divided in its response to Russia's invasion. This may or may not be so, but he would almost certainly not have expected the extent to which European countries closed ranks to support Ukraine. It has been an extraordinary show of solidarity, sinking old differences, suppressing self-doubt, accepting economic sacrifices and making bold political decisions with far-reaching impacts. There were some wrinkles in the decision-making process on sanctions. Still, the 27 countries of the European Union eventually united behind a formidable menu of sanctions across economic, financial and industrial sectors.

Moreover, many European companies went beyond the requirement and voluntarily suspended business with Russia, even with companies in third countries sourcing their products from Russia. Russian professional, cultural and sports organisations were boycotted; individual professionals, athletes and artists were barred from events. Where they did participate, the Russian flag could not be flown, and its anthem could not be played. It was a unique manifestation of cancel culture—an entire nation was cancelled for the sins of its political leadership.

In contrast, the Ukrainian flag flies in almost every European country alongside its national and EU flags. Ukraine's president has addressed more parliaments and international organisations in one year than most national leaders would expect to do in their lifetime.

Biden's visit followed a recent NATO decision to significantly ramp up military assistance to Ukraine, with ammunition, armoured battle tanks and integrated air and missile defence systems. Meanwhile, former NATO generals and some European leaders are asking for more: fighter aircraft, drones, long-range artillery and more lethal weaponry to ensure a Russian defeat.

Views of various NATO leaders on the endgame in this war vary in emphasis and nuance, depending on their geopolitical perspectives: Ukraine should not be allowed to lose; Ukraine should win; Russia cannot and must not win; Russia should be defeated, pushed out of all occupied Ukrainian territory and weakened to the extent that it can never threaten its neighbours again. Regime change and the disintegration of Russia are often seen as desired outcomes. Among European leaders, France's President Emmanuel Macron has been a relative outlier (and has taken the flak for it): saying that Russia's security concerns must be accommodated "at some stage".

The course of NATO's military support to Ukraine would be influenced by the line it finally embraces for the endgame. There was not much clarity on this in briefings on the Biden-Zelensky conversation. It was said they talked about capabilities Ukraine needs in the coming months to succeed on the battlefield (success not being defined). They also discussed Ukraine's energy, infrastructure, economic and humanitarian needs, which would surely cost a few billion dollars.

On his part, Putin has again reiterated his determination to win the war, declaring that the US-led West has thrust it on Russia and that it is now an existential issue for his country. That Russia mishandled military tactics, personnel and equipment for much of the war is obvious and was implicit in Putin's speech. The political misjudgement is also evident: Ukrainians did not receive the Russian army with open arms, and European unity did not fracture. The real issue of long-term consequence is how the war's outcome will impact the strategic interests of Russia, Ukraine, Europe and the US. The jury is still out on this issue.

Therefore, the stark reality is that all stakeholders—Russia, Ukraine and NATO countries—are locked into inflexible positions that do not permit compromise without loss of face.

An assumption that the economic impact of the war (and the sanctions) would drive its protagonists towards compromise proved unfounded. According to the IMF, the US and European economies avoided recession; Europe adapted reasonably to the energy crisis; and even the Russian economy contracted less than expected.

Mediation efforts of Israeli, French and Turkish leaders petered out quickly. Turkey catalysed a tentative Russia-Ukraine agreement in March-end last year, which reportedly envisaged a "neutral, non-aligned and non-nuclear" Ukraine, guaranteed by all stakeholders (essentially NATO and Russia). But it was soon buried, as Ukraine was apparently persuaded that it could secure a better outcome on the battlefield.

Zelensky unveiled a "peace plan" at the G20 summit in November. It involves Russia withdrawing from all Ukrainian territory, an international tribunal to try Russian war crimes, and reparations for damage caused by its aggression, including confiscation of Russian assets. This presupposes a military collapse and surrender of the Russian State.

In sum, therefore, one year into the Russian military action, the underlying causes have not been addressed, large-scale destruction continues, regional conflicts have mushroomed, globalisation is subjugated to geopolitics, multilateralism has degenerated, energy transition is under threat and a rules-based, multipolar world order is little more than a pipedream. This is the depressing geopolitical report card of 2022 and defines a formidable agenda for 2023.

GEORGE SOROS AND HIS DEEP THROAT CLAIMS

SANDIP GHOSE

Current affairs commentator

George Soros has been grabbing more headlines and airtime in India over the last few days than he has probably done in the rest of the world all these years despite his billions. And the global news channel—BBC—has itself become a newsmaker with its two-part documentary on Narendra Modi. While the Opposition and critics of Modi were quick to latch on to these as indictments of Modi and his regime, the government reacted sharply. Some felt the Centre's response was over-the-top, reinforcing its image of intolerance of criticism. It said the BBC was a habitual offender trying to impose its Leftist agenda on former British colonies. India's Foreign Minister S Jaishankar described George Soros as an "old, rich, opinionated and dangerous" man.

There is no doubt that the official statements were well considered and calibrated. Jaishankar later said in an interview that the timing of the documentary was not accidental. He called it "politics by other means". He further stated that "sometimes, politics of India didn't even originate in its borders but came from outside", adding, "I don't know if the election season has started in India, Delhi or not, but, for sure it has started in London, New York."

Many felt a sense of déjà vu hearing these statements, which echoed the frequent reference to the ubiquitous "foreign hand" repeatedly invoked by Indira Gandhi in the Seventies. They may not be entirely off the mark. But it does not mean that the apprehensions of the Modi administration are imaginary and Indira Gandhi's fears were unfounded. The denouement of her political career tends to support the conspiracy theories propounded by her.

Declassified documents from the United States and other governments that have since come to light have established that India was a major playground of foreign intelligence agencies during the Cold War era. There is enough evidence to indicate that apart from journalists, even politicians were in the pay of the CIA and KGB. It is suspected that there were moles in Indira Gandhi's council of ministers as well. However, the game was covert then. But now Soros' statement has brought it out in the open. Besides, he has not made any secret of the funds he has committed to various individuals, institutions, media outlets and NGOs to usher in a regime change in India. Soros' attempt to link the meltdown in the Adani Group of companies with Narendra Modi's fortunes arouses suspicion about his role in the scourge of the Indian stock market. Similarly, the BBC documentary is nothing but a frontal attack on Modi.

Understandably, the narrative of Soros and BBC is music to the ears of Modi's detractors. But it raises far more fundamental issues, both internal and external. Between the BBC film and Soros' statement, the latter has more serious implications. At one level, Soros is an individual. However, his links with the current United States administration and the fact that he is one of the largest donors of the US Democratic party are well known. This is bound to fuel speculations about his ability to influence US foreign policy. Consider a hypothetical situation in which an Indian tycoon commits his resources to destabilise the government in a neighbouring country. How would the world, or for that matter, the champions of democracy in India who have discovered a new messiah in Soros, view it? This is far too serious a matter to be left for the media to decide, and the government has done well to take the proverbial bull by its horn or, in this case, the bear by the ears.

PTI

Many felt a sense of déjà vu hearing these statements, which echoed the frequent reference to the ubiquitous "foreign hand" repeatedly invoked by Indira Gandhi in the Seventies

The BBC saga has another dimension. Seen as a continuum of critical coverage of India across several Left-leaning global media brands, it appears to be a part of a well orchestrated and concerted campaign to defame the present dispensation. The pattern can be traced to when India was mischievously maligned for its handling of Covid. In hindsight, it turns out India was a role model on all fronts, from its management of the economy to vaccination and containing casualties. Even during that period, the BBC had led the charge with misleading reports. One can ask why the Indian government should be prickly about what is appearing in the foreign press if the masses are unmoved by such partisan reportage. The answer lies in what it means for our democracy. The government seems to think it is a sinister attempt to supplant the mandate with the designs of a minuscule minority who have traditionally held sway over the country's affairs.

The Modi government is not in the mood to relent from all indications. Apart from giving back to Soros as good as it got, it rewarded the BBC's India office with an "Income Tax Survey", which has reportedly unearthed large discrepancies in its financial returns. Be that as it may, the government's message is loud and clear: "Don't mess with us". So, what has changed between the Seventies and now? The answer is simple: India's global standing has risen phenomenally. From being a member of the "fragile five" during the pandemic, India had the resilience to come out as "anti-fragile". With the global economy in the doldrums, the West needs India more than ever before. That was the underlying message of the recent aircraft deal with Boeing and Airbus, which Biden, Macron and Sunak did not miss. At the end of the day, the West is ideologically agnostic and values trade above everything else. Add to that India's geo-strategic importance in the context of China and Central Asia. The West knows destabilising India politically cannot be in their interest. That is Modi's trump card both at home and abroad.

Case of sour grapes

Manish Tewari's take in Is Air India deal such a big deal (Feb 23) makes for interesting reading. He fails to realise the brand was a corporate entity taken over in the name of nationalisation and run to the ground by government babudom and bureaucracy. The deal will lead to more investment in local support/manufacturing by Boeing and Airbus. Only a person who intentionally fails to recognise this cannot see that.

It is flummoxing to know that as per the latest judicial data, 60 lakh cases are pending in the lower courts (Quick Take 'Wanted legal representation', Feb 22). The onus is on lower courts to dispose of these cases by delivering final verdicts as far as possible.

More wheat stocks offloaded but worries stay

Govt on Jan 25 agreed to augment the supply by offloading through open market sale scheme to cool down prices

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

AS the temperatures have risen abnormally in wheat-producing areas, so have the government's anxieties over wheat prices and production. The government appears to be fire-fighting in its attempt to reduce the wheat and atta prices and reduce the impact of excessive heat on the current rabi crop by constituting a committee to advise farmers.

The government on Thursday claimed that the wholesale wheat prices have come down after offloading significant amount of wheat stock in the open market scheme.

Meanwhile, the Central government has also decided to offload an additional 20 lakh tonnes (LT) of wheat to further reduce the prices.

Ashok K K Meena, the chairman and managing director Food Corporation of India (FCI), said after offloading more than 18 LT of wheat in the open market in three e-auctions since February, the wholesale price of wheat is reduced by around ₹300.

However, the reduced wholesale price will take some time to offer solace to retail consumers. According to the Department of Consumer Affairs, the average retail prices in January 2023 of wheat and atta were at a 10-year high. Wheat prices were over ₹3,300 per quintal while atta prices were over Rs 3,700 per quintal.

The Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation data shows that since September 2021, the retail price index has shown over 20 per cent rise in wheat price.

Concerned over rising prices, the government on January 25 agreed to augment the wheat supply in the open market by offloading through the open market sale scheme (OMSS) to cool down the prices.

Initially, the government decided to offload 25 LT wheat through OMSS. On February 21, it added 20 LT wheat to the market. Besides, the government provided 5 LT at a lower price to state governments, and its agencies like NAFED, Kendriya Bhandaran, and others, sell wheat at lower prices through different schemes. In all, the total wheat stock to be offloaded under the scheme is 50 LT.

The first e-auction sold 9.13 LT with an average price of ₹2,474/quintal, followed by the second e-auction sold 3.85 LT with an average price of ₹2,338/quintal. In the third e-auction, another 5.07 LT wheat was sold at an average price of ₹2,172/quintal — the reduced auction price need to be passed on to retail consumers.

"Millers and traders assured us that reduced wheat price benefits will be passed on to consumers," said Meena.

> As of now, our assessment says the production will not come down. Moreover, we are promoting most small traders to participate in e-auction. Figures show around 87 per cent of farmers are small traders who bought less than 500 metric tonnes and have a lesser chance to hoard
>
> Ashok K K Meena, MD, FCI

The government's agricultural commodity price index also shows a minimal decrease in the modal price.

"With this, model prices in different mandis of the country are hovering around ₹2,200 to ₹2,300," said Meena.

Meanwhile, the government has rejected traders' and experts' speculation of the possibility of hoardings that buyers will not release cheaper wheat as the current climatic condition may reduce wheat production like it did last year.

The current climatic conditions causing excess heat during the flowering and maturing period lead to a loss in yield, possibly pushing the price in upcoming months. Only after that, the traders will release wheat in the market.

"As of now, our assessment says the production will not come down. Moreover, we are promoting most small traders to participate in e-auction," said Meena. He shared figures that show around 87 per cent of farmers are small traders who bought less than 500 metric tonnes and have a lesser chance to hoard.

Madras, Allahabad HCs get 4 advocates as additional judges

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Central government on Thursday notified the elevation of four advocates as additional judges of Allahabad and Madras High Court.

Prashant Kumar, Manjive Shukla and Arun Kumar Singh Deshwal were appointed as additional judges of Allahabad HC, while Venkatachari Lakshminarayanan additional judge of Madras HC.

Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju while taking to Twitter said, "As per relevant provisions under the Constitution of India, the following Advocates have been appointed as Additional Judges of Allahabad High Court and Madras High Court. I extend my best wishes to all of them."

Venkatachari's name was recommended by the Supreme Court collegium in its meeting dated January 17, 2023 along with the elevation of advocates Victoria Gowri, Pillaipakkam Bahukutumbi Balaji, Ramaswamy Neelakandan and Kandhasami Kulandaivelu Ramakrishnan. The government had cleared Gowri's name on February 6, 2023, but kept back Venkatachari's name, which was cleared on Thursday.

Names of Prashant Kumar, Manjive Shukla and Arun Kumar Singh Deshwal were recommended by the SC collegium also on January 17, 2023, along with other six names.

The Madras High Court has been working at a strength of 57 judges against a sanctioned strength of 75. With the addition of Justice Lakshminarayanan, the number of Madras HC judges will rise to 58.

Rijiju recently said that the government was committed to filling up vacancies expeditiously. He also said that while the process was continuous, integrated and collaborative, it, however, required consultation and approval from various constitutional authorities.

NDRF in process to bag UN cert for top quick response force

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

EVEN as the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) has been garnering international accolades for its work in earthquake-hit Turkiye, the force headquarters is moving ahead with preparations to bag the United Nations' 'classification', that would officially qualify it to be among the top search and rescue/quick response teams of the world.

Sources confirmed that efforts to get the International Search and Rescue Advisory Group (INSARAG) classification has been going on since some time. "We have been working to get the INSARAG classification for two heavy teams and the efforts for it involves developing them as per the standards of the UN group. It will also require following the SOPs," the sources said.

This process also involves finalising agreements with various ministries including Civil Aviation and External Affairs, as well as and wings. "This will develop an institutional mechanism and memory thus strengthening the whole setup. Also, with time, as the SOPs are set the response time will come down and will lead to saving more lives."

"Timely and practiced response will lead to clarity in action and bring down the morbidity and mortality," added the sources.

> We have been working to get the INSARAG classification for two heavy teams and it involves developing them as per the standards of the UN group. It will also require following the SOPs
> Source

The teams are likely to be based in the National Capital Region and Kolkata to begin with. The Force Levels (Personnel) and Equipment with a heavy team is much more and it can carry out operations at more than one site of disaster. As per the classification levels there are light, medium and heavy teams.

The INSARAG is a global network of more than 90 countries and organisations under the United Nations umbrella. When Pak's basic industry is terror, there can't be prosperity: Jaishankar

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

A country where the basic industry is terrorism cannot become prosperous, said External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar with an obvious reference to Pakistan – which is reeling under an economic crisis.

"No country is ever going to come out of a difficult situation and become prosperous if its basic industry is terrorism,'' the Minister Jaishankar said at the Asia Economic Dialogue in Pune on Thursday.

Terrorism is the fundamental issue of the India-Pakistan relationship – which cannot be avoided. "If I were to look at any big decision I am making, I will also look at what is the public sentiment. I would have a pulse of what my people feel about it, and the answer is obvious,'' he said. Pakistans future will largely be determined by its own actions and choices and its for them to find a way out of their economic troubles. Meanwhile, regarding the trade imbalance between India and China, he said that corporates in the country are not developing the right sourcing arrangements.

Terming the challenge posed by the trade imbalance with China as very serious and formidable, Dr Jaishankar said, "Indian corporates have not developed the kind of backwards (integration), vendor supplies, components and parts, ingredients and intermediates that should be supporting us."

With lots of people, including former RBI Governor Raghuram Rajan, asking India to focus on services, Jaishankar warned that those who "do down" manufacturing are "actually damaging India's strategic future."

PM bats for green growth, says India has huge potential

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE potential of solar, wind and biogas in India is no less than that of a gold mine or oil field for our private sector, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday while speaking at the first post-budget webinar on 'green growth' in the capital.

The PM reiterated the government's commitment for exploring sustainable development in the field of green energy to make the country self reliant in its future. Touching upon India's potential in green energy, the PM categorically said that the country has been blessed with huge potential to lead the world in Green Energy by creating green jobs also.

Outlining the three pillars for green growth and energy transmission, the PM said that first increasing the production, second reducing the sue of fossil fuel in the economy and third moving towards a gas-based economy in the country are being effected by the government. He said that India's commanding position in the renewal energy space will ensure a commensurate change in the world.

Lauding this year's budget, the PM said that the budget will play a key role in establishing India as a lead energy market.

"I invite every stakeholder of the energy world to invest in India. This budget has given a great opportunity to every green energy investor to invest in India", he said. The country has achieved the target of 40% contributions from non-fossil fuels in the installed electricity capacity 9 years before the target date, he said.

Citing the future, the PM said that a target of 5 MMT green hydrogen has been set with an allocation of ₹19,000 crore to incentivise the private sector. He said that India has potential of producing 10,000 million cubic meters of biogas from cow dung and 1.5 lakh cubic meter gas contributing 8% of city gas distribution in the country.

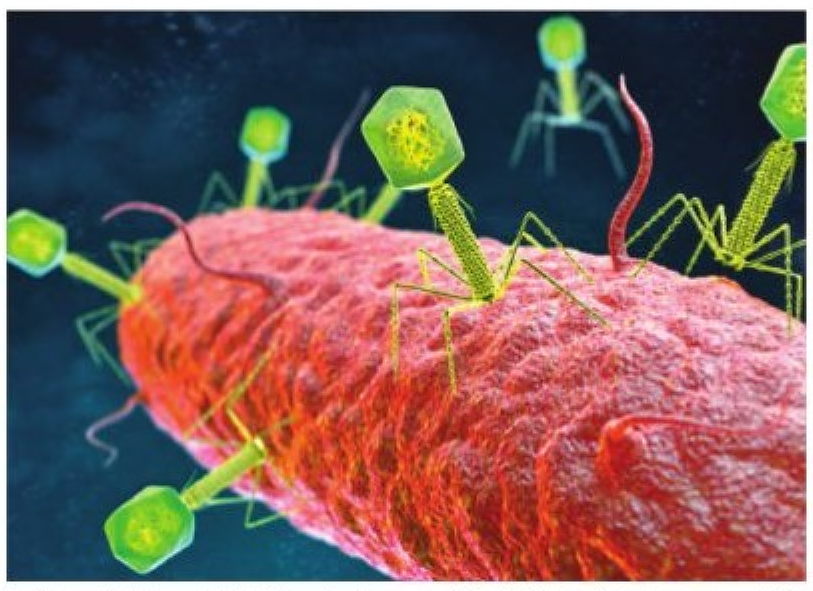
'SHEEP CAN BE STRESS-BUSTERS'

A study by University of California has found that grazing sheep can not only help in urban lawn landscaping, but also relieve stressed and anxiety-ridden individuals of their maladies just watching them graze. The study was taken up during the peak of the pandemic, and was initially aimed at determining whether sheep could benefit urban lawn landscapes and make a case for increasing their usage in urban settings. While their study aimed at looking at advantages of bringing grazing sheep into urban settings to explore its benefits on improving urban landscaping, the fall-out observation was that it had a 'peaceful' effect on the volunteers.

5 NEW ANTIBIOTIC-RESISTANT, BACTERIA-KILLING VIRUSES FOUND



Unlike antibiotics which kill a whole range of bacteria, bacteriophages can kill just one target bacterium species by the millions | INTERNET

While antibiotic-resistant bacteria are emerging as a major worry in the medical and health care field, researchers from University of Southern Denmark have discovered five new species of bacteria-killing viruses, known as bacteriophages. Of the five, so far only one has been genome sequenced, and named 'Fyn8'. Unlike antibiotics which kill a whole range of bacteria, bacteriophages can kill just one target bacterium species by the millions. Fyn8 has been found to be targeting a bacterium called Pseudomonas aeruginosa, found naturally in soil and water, but is normally harmless on healthy people. But what has excited the researchers is that Fyn8 was able to attack and kill Pseudomonas aeruginosa despite the latter having developed antibiotic resistance. Their excitement goes further in anticipation of knowing which bacteria the other four yet-to-be-sequenced newly-discovered virus species can attack and kill.

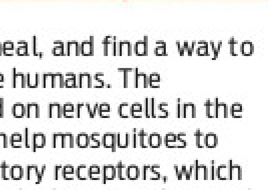
JOHNS HOPKINS STUDY MAY PUT A HALT TO MOSQUITO BITES



Johns Hopkins Medicine researchers have mapped specialised receptors on the nerve cells of a mosquito's antenna which enable them to detect human odour to decide whom to bite more than others for a blood meal. Mosquitoes use their antennae to detect human odour. It has been known that the variations in human body heat, humidity and odour plays an active role in mosquitoes to get attracted to some humans, but not others. But the receptors that aid in the hunt had never been mapped. The mapping of these receptors opens the way to understand the mechanism of how mosquitoes "choose" whom to bite for a blood meal, and find a way to eliminate those so mosquitoes can no longer bite humans. The mapping yielded three types of receptors located on nerve cells in the mosquito's antenna — odorant receptors, which help mosquitoes to distinguish between humans and animals; Gustatory receptors, which detect carbon dioxide; and Ionotropic receptors, which respond to acids and amines found in the human skin. The researchers say understanding the molecular biology of mosquito odour-sensing is key to developing new ways to avoid bites and diseases that they cause.

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand government has issued a compensation policy for buildings damaged in the Joshimath land submergence disaster.

After the approval of the Governor, Secretary Disaster Management Dr Ranjit Kumar Sinha has issued the order which states that the compensation rates will be calculated on the basis of the rates of the Central Public Works Department for the plinth area.

Three options have been given for permanent rehabilitation of the displaced residents. "The government has issued a compensation policy for the damaged buildings of Joshimath. The compensation for residential and commercial buildings has been fixed whereas for land will be decided after the reports. The government has issued three options for residential buildings.

Option 1: Disaster affected land building owners, whose residential buildings are not habitable, will be compensated at the rate fixed for the residential building. If the land is also declared unsafe, then it will also be compensated accordingly.

Option 2: If disaster-affected people whose buildings and land will be declared unsafe, if they demand land for a residential building while receiving building compensation, the maximum area to build a house is 75 square meters. If the price of the unprotected land of the affected family is higher than the allotted land, compensation will be given separately by the government after adjustment.

Option 3: The disaster affected person can demand a residential building constructed relative to his land and building. Houses will be built by the state government on land up to a maximum area of 50 square meters.

Supporters of pro-Khalistan activist Amritpal Singh protesting outside Ajnala police station in Amritsar on Thursday | EXPRESS

HUNDREDS of supporters of pro-Khalistan activist and self-styled preacher Amritpal Singh on Thursday broke through the barricades near the Ajnala Police Station near Amritsar and laid a siege to it after clashing with police personnel. Reports said some police personnel were injured.

The protestors, many of them wielding swords, lifted the siege in the evening after an assurance from the police that a Special Investigation Team will be formed to probe the case registered against Amritpal and his supporters for kidnapping, theft and voluntarily causing hurt. Amritpal Singh is the chief of 'Waaris Punjab De', a radical fringe outfit, and claims to be a preacher. Earlier in the day, he gave an ultimatum to the police to release his supporter currently lodged in judicial custody and cancel the "false" case registered against him and his men. He threatened a permanent sit-in at the police station.

His supporters broke through five police barricades and forced their way into the police station at Ajnala where a case was registered against him and his men for kidnapping and assault.

A heavy police force was deployed in Ajnala town and on the route to the police station as his supporters coming from various parts of the state managed to gather near Ajnala. His supporters wielding swords clashed with the police personnel who were clearly outnumbered. The preacher's supporters then held a meeting with police officers.

"There was a vehicle carrying Guru Granth Sahib and his supporters were behind so our men could hardly lathi-charge them and take any action,'' said a police officer. Amritpal gave an ultimatum to the police to release his supporter Lovepreet Singh, currently lodged in judicial custody, as he was booked along with him (Amritpal) a few days ago on the complaint of Varinder Singh of Chamkaur Sahib. Amritpal said if the police failed to release his supporter and cancel the case registered against them, they give a permanent dharna at the police station.

Later the dharna was lifted from the police station after senior police officers agreed to release Lovepreet Singh tomorrow. "We have formed an SIT to probe the case registered against Amritpal Singh and his supporters. We'll move further in the case after the SIT report," said Senior Superintendent of Police of Amritsar (Rural) Satinder Singh. Senior police officers, including Police Commissioner Amritsar, Jaskaran Singh, IGP Border Range Mohnish Chawla, and SSP Amritsar (Rural) Satinder Singh held a meeting with the representatives of Amritpal at the police station.

Earlier the protestors had blocked the Jalandhar-Amritsar highway near Dhilwan toll plaza in Kapurthala. Amritpal on Wednesday announced a protest at the Ajnala police station against the alleged false case of kidnapping and assault registered against him and his supporters six days ago. The Punjab Police had arrested one of his supporters Lovepreet Singh Toofan of Tibri in Gurdaspur and he was sent to judicial custody.

Former CM Capt Amarinder Singh said the situation showed a complete collapse of the law and order situation in Punjab. "This incident has serious security implications for the state and the country." He also sought to warn the Centre that there was a particular pattern in these incidents, which did not bode well for national security. He said Pakistan was eager to exploit the situation. He also raised doubts about the competence of the state government to deal with such a situation.

Induct pupils into ABVP programme: Govt official

In a shocking incident, Chief Education Officer, Almora has sent a government letter to the principals of nine schools in the district and issued an order to students of class 9 and class 11 to join the Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad (ABVP) programme. Uttarakhand Congress chief spokesperson Garima Mehra Dasauni said that the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has violated democratic values. "With the BJP's stature declining day by day, the use of school children to make its programmes successful and gather the crowd is certainly condemnable," she said.

Russia woos Indian students forced out of Ukraine by war

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

HUNDREDS of Indian medical students who returned to India from Ukraine since the start of the war, have now resumed their studies in other countries with most of them choosing Russia, despite having had to endure the trauma of a war brought on by Moscow's invasion of Ukraine.

"Russia is drawing medical students as they have made admission easy. They were also not charged extra for continuing their medical education. They were welcomed wholeheartedly," said Vikas Raghav, one of the students who returned from Ukraine.

Many students have also gone to Georgia, Armenia, Kyrgyzstan and other smaller European countries to complete their courses, while some final-year students, for whom transfer to colleges in other countries was difficult, have returned to Ukraine to complete their courses.

"They (students) don't want to go back to Ukraine. But for many of us, it wasn't easy to get a transfer. So we returned to complete our medical education," said Sooraj, one of the students who have returned to Ukraine. Russia's invasion of Ukraine on February 24 last year forced thousands of Indian medical students to undertake long and arduous journeys, often on foot, to neighbouring countries, so that they could be evacuated to India.

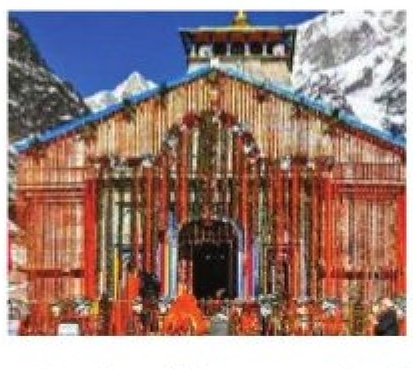
60k registration in 2 days, no entry without QR code in Char Dham

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

A record number of pilgrims will visit the Char Dham in Uttarakhand this year as well, with over 60,000 registrations already for the pilgrimage to Kedarnath and Badrinath within the last 48 hours, officials said on Thursday.

Over the past two days, a total of 61,250 pilgrims have registered for Badrinath and Kedarnath, which open on April 27 and April 25 respectively. The registration for the two temples began on Tuesday while registration for Gangotri and Yamunotri will begin after the dates for the opening of their portals are announced formally, said Ajayendra Ajay, president of The Badri Kedar Temple Committee.

The Uttarakhand government has made it mandatory for the devotees and tourists, from outside and within the state, visiting Char Dham to carry a QR code. "With the portals of Char Dham opening next month, it is mandatory to have a QR code before entering Uttarakhand, otherwise the government SOP may hinder your devotion", the Uttarakhand government has advised all pilgrims who have planned to visit Char Dham this year.



With this new system devotees will not have to stand in long queues. Upon registration, a QR code will be generated and sent on the registered mobile number, and tokens will be issued for darshan at all four Dhams accordingly. Darshan will not be allowed without QR code.

Regional Transport Officer Sunil Sharma told this newspaper, "Keeping in mind the proposal sent to the government by the Transport Department, it is preparing the Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) for the smooth conduct of the Yatra".

Joint Transport Commissioner S K Singh told this newspaper, "After applying for green cards of vehicles online or through the app, physical checking of vehicles will have to be done by visiting any transport office". "This time special focus has been laid on traffic management for Char Dham Yatra. Under this, a limited number of vehicles will be allowed to ply on the yatra route to control the crowd," said a senior official.

Allahabad HC clears decks for hookah bars in UP

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE hookah bars, banned by the state government during the Covid pandemic, have got a major reprieve from the Allahabad High Court as it cleared the decks for their reopening by permitting the owners to apply to the statutory authority under the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006 for grant or renewal of a licence to run the facilities.

Disposing of a petition filed in this connection, a division bench, comprising acting Chief Justice Printinker Diwaker and Justice Saumitra Dayal Singh, in an order dated February 21, issued directives to the authorities concerned that if applications for the reopening of hookah bars were made by their owners, it may be decided strictly in accordance with law as expeditiously as possible, preferably within a period of one month from the date of filing of such application.

The counsels appearing for the interveners, owners of hookah bars, urged the court to allow all of them to recommence their business as the restrictions imposed during the Covid pandemic had largely been relaxed and in other states similar businesses were being allowed to run.

Guj proposes 10-year jail, ₹1 cr fine for exam question paper leak

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

ON the first day of the Budget session of the Gujarat assembly, the Gujarat Public Examination (Prevention of Unfair means) Bill, 2023 was presented for discussion by Home Minister Harsh Sanghvi. The Speaker had asked the ruling party and the opposition to properly discuss the bill prior to its introduction.

According to the bill, a maximum punishment of 10 years imprisonment and a fine not less than ₹1 crore for indulging in the crime of leaking question papers of various government recruitment examinations has been proposed.

As per the new bill draft, anyone found guilty of misconduct, will face imprisonment for up to three years and a fine of less than Rs1 lakh. In addition, if a candidate fails to pay a fine, he or she may face imprisonment.

> Anybody who conspires, commits, or attempts to commit malpractice by tampering with the question paper shall be penalised by imprisonment
>
> Gujarat Public Examination Bill

"Anybody who conspires, commits, or attempts to commit malpractice by tampering with the question paper—regardless of whether they are an authorised person charged with administering the test—shall be penalised by imprisonment for a term of not less than five years or more than ten years. Also, the potential for a monetary fine ranging from ₹10 lakh to ₹1 crore has been maintained."

If any student is found guilty, he or she will be barred from taking any public examination for the next two years. Apart from this, there is a provision to seize and confiscate the accused's property.

It is worth noting that Congress surrounded the BJP just before the Assembly session started and the bill on paper leak was to be presented. Congress leaders chanted anti-BJP slogans in the Assembly with banners.

Congress leader Amit Chawda told the media, "There have been paper leak in Gujarat more than 13 times during the BJP's 27-year reign. Due to the opposition of the Congress and the outcry of the youth, the government has introduced the bill; however, instead of closing a loophole and catching the big fish, they are catching the little fish while leaving the bigger ones who have ties to the BJP or the government, unaffected."

For the first time, Nagaland may elect 1st woman MLA

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Dimapur

NAGALAND, for the first time might be able to script history if it elects a woman as an MLA in the upcoming elections.

Nagaland attained statehood in 1963 but never before a woman has candidate been elected to the state Assembly. The state has 49.79% female voters this election but only four women among the 183 candidates. The quartet will try to break that barrier this year.

The Christian-majority state, however, has got two women MPs till date. Back in 1977, Rano M Shaiza of the United Democratic Party had created history by becoming first woman MP in the state. She had defeated the then Chief Minister Hokishe Sema of Congress in the Lok Sabha elections. Almost 45 years later last year, Phangnon Konyak of the BJP was elected to the Rajya Sabha. It is not that the women in the state have not fought for political representation but the political parties have always shied away from representing them. Until a few years ago, it was not an uncommon sight that the right to vote in villages was passed on by the villagers to their village chief. But times are now changing.

Five women had contested the 2018 elections but none of them was successful. Hekani Jakhalu, Salhoutuonuo Kruse, both from NDPP, Kahuli Sema (BJP) and Rosy Thomson (Congress) are contesting in this elections. Jakhalu is contesting from Dimapur-III, Kruse from Western Angami, Sema from Atoizu and Thomson from Tening. Jakhalu, the US-educated lawyer, is a social entrepreneur. Kruse has been into social services for more than two decades while Sema, who took voluntary retirement, served as the engineer-in-chief in the Nagaland PWD.

Ministry nod to go after misleading Patanjali ads

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

AFTER taking a U-turn and ignoring RTI petitions, the Ayush ministry has finally given a clear go-ahead to the Uttarakhand government to take action against Baba Ramdev's Patanjali Ayurved for misleading advertisements of his Ayush products. The directions came following a complaint from Congress MP Karti P Chidambaram. In his letter to Karti, Ayush minister Sarbannanda Sonowal said, "the State Licensing Authority (SLA) has been directed in light of the Drugs and Magical Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) Act, 1954, and rules thereunder."

This is not the first time the ministry has directed the SLA to take action against Patanjali. But its February 10 letter clearly said for the first time that Rule 170 has been challenged in the Mumbai court and not action under Drugs and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) 1954 — a point Kannur-based ophthalmologist Dr K V Babu, an RTI activist, had also flagged in his RTI when he sought action against Patanjali. His RTI petition was rejected on the grounds that the matter was sub judice.

The ministry told SLA this time that the matter should be probed and action taken.

Describing it as a "significant development after both the state licensing authority and the Ayush ministry were hiding behind the sub-judice nature of an unrelated rule 170 of the Cosmetic Act," Dr Babu said, now there is a clear direction to the SLA from the ministry to take appropriate action. "I welcome this decision and communication," he told this newspaper.

In April 2022, the ministry had given a similar order following an RTI filed by Dr Babu, but the SLA sought to wriggle out citing Rule 170 under the Drugs and Cosmetic Act, which prevented them from penalising Patanjali.

He said that in order to facilitate the investors, his government will soon abolish the CLU and NOC that had haunted the industries in earlier times. ON WAR ANNIVERSARY EVE, ZELENSKYY SAYS UKRAINE WILL PREVAIL

Ukrainian prez says he also wants to meet China over its peace plan for the country

KYIV

UKRAINIAN President Volodymyr Zelenskyy on Thursday expressed confidence in his country's victory over invading Russian forces with fears mounting of strikes on the conflict's first anniversary.

"We have not broken down, we have overcome many ordeals and we will prevail. We will hold to account all those who brought this evil, this war to our land," Zelenskyy said on social media.

Ahead of the war's first anniversary on February 24, Ukraine's military intelligence chief said Russia was planning a missile attack to mark the day. "February 23-24, they have two dates," Kyrylo Budanov said in an interview to Ukrainskaya Pravda, adding, "Believe me, we have survived this more than 20 times already."

Zelenskyy also said he had not seen a peace plan promised by China but wanted to meet with Beijing over their proposal before assessing it.

Beijing has promised to publish its "political solution" to the Ukraine conflict this week, in time for the first anniversary of Russia's February 24 invasion of its neighbour.

"China have told us they have such an initiative. But I have not seen the document yet," Zelenskyy said during a news conference with visiting Spanish Prime Minister Pedro Sanchez in Kyiv. Sanchez said on Thursday that he hoped to send ten Leopard tanks to Ukraine in the upcoming months.

"I think it is a very good fact in general that China started talking about Ukraine and sent some signals," Zelenskyy said. "We'll draw some conclusions after we see the specifics of what they offer... We would like to have a meeting with China."

Meanwhile, the nearly year-long conflict has seen Western leaders step up their support for Kyiv, and on Thursday, G7 ministers discussed new sanctions on Russia as the United Nations General Assembly prepared to vote on a motion calling for "lasting" peace. AFP

Pentagon releases pilot's selfie with Chinese spy balloon

WASHINGTON

THE US defence department has released a high-altitude cockpit selfie of a U-2 spy plane pilot soaring over an alleged Chinese spy balloon the day before it was shot down.

The photo shows the top of the pilot's helmet inside the U-2 cockpit with the balloon flying below. It was taken February 3 as the balloon "hovered over the Central Continental United States," as per the caption provided by the Defence Department. The Pentagon released the image on Wednesday, more than two weeks after the balloon made international headlines as it transited the US.

The balloon was downed on February 4 by an F-22 fighter jet firing a AIM-9X Sidewinder missile. The strike took place once the balloon was no longer over land but was still within US territorial waters.

The image first circulated on aviation enthusiast website "Dragon Lady Today," with Pentagon Deputy Press Secretary Sabrina Singh confirming its authenticity at a press conference on Wednesday. US media pounced on the opportunity to cover the selfie taken on board the U-2 aircraft—which is nicknamed the "Dragon Lady"—with all major news outlets sharing the image. Agencies

SL's court postpones petition seeking halt of polls

Colombo: Sri Lanka's Supreme Court on Thursday postponed the hearing of a writ petition seeking an order to halt the March 9 local body elections until May 11, casting uncertainty on the conduct of elections in the island country. The apex court postponed the hearing of the petition filed by a retired Sri Lanka Army Colonel seeking an order to invalidate the preparations being made for the Local Government Election until May 11. Speaking in parliament on Thursday, President Ranil Wickremesinghe also hinted that the local election may not take place. The election to appoint new administrations to 340 local councils for a four-year term has been postponed since March last year due to the ongoing economic crisis.

Afghan Taliban to help Pak fight TTP

ISLAMABAD

THE Afghan Taliban leaders have promised to cooperate with Pakistan on its concerns about the presence of the Tehreek-i-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) militants and sanctuaries on their soil.

The promise came during a trip by a Pakistani delegation led by Defence Minister Khawaja Muhammad Asif to Kabul on Wednesday, as per a report.

Pakistan's Foreign Office said the growing TTP and IS-K threat was discussed and "the two sides agreed to collaborate to effectively address the threat of terrorism."

The delegation included ISI Chief Lt Gen Nadeem Anjum, Foreign Secretary Asad Majid, Special Envoy on Afghanistan Muhammad Sadiq and Pakistan's chargé d'affaires in Afghanistan Obaid Nizamani.

A senior Pakistani official said the delegation delivered a pointed message to the Taliban officials that Afghanistan-based TTP elements must be reined in, the Dawn reported.

The visiting delegation met Taliban Deputy PM Mullah Abdul Ghani Baradar, Defence Minister Mawlavi Mohammad Yaqoob Mujahid, Interior Minister Sirajuddin Haqqani and Foreign Minister Amir Khan Muttaqi. Afghan leaders have in the past always rejected the allegations that TTP used their country for attacks in Pakistan, but the official said this time they surprisingly agreed to cooperate on the issue, the media report said. "Probably they realised the gravity of the situation," the official further said.

The two sides in their meetings also discussed the broader issues of counter-terrorism and border security cooperation. The Afghan Taliban, meanwhile, said the two parties had discussed economic cooperation, regional connectivity, trade, and the state of bilateral relations. PTI

Govt crackdown on e-pharma as China FDI rises

Nearly ₹20,000 crore has been invested by Chinese investors in online pharmacy retailers in the country

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

Reining in e-pharmacies

- Online pharmacies have received FDI of ₹50,000 cr
- Chinese firms have invested ₹20,000 cr

Govt had earlier issued show cause notice to over a dozen firms including Amazon, Practo, Tatalmg

- Govt isn't satisfied with responses it got on show cause notices, said sources
- Industry experts are divided on Centre's move to put ban on e-Pharmacies

AMID geopolitical tensions between China and India, the government stands firm on its decision to ban online sale of drugs and medicines, as the neighbouring country has as much as ₹20,000 crore direct investments in this segment, government sources privy to this matter told this newspaper.

Chinese control in ePharmacy will be detrimental to national security and the government doesn't want its dominance in such a critical sector. However, as per a top government official, banning online sale of drugs will not happen overnight as the sector has over ₹50,000 crore FDI. "Banning of online sale of drugs will take a long time as foreign investors have put in as much as ₹50,000 crore in this segment. Chinese firms have invested ₹20,000 crore. As the stake is quite high in the online segment, many firms may take the court's route and appeal against the government's injunction," the official said. This newspaper had earlier reported about the government issuing show cause notice to over a dozen firms including Amazon, Practo, Tata1mg, PharmEasy, Apollo, Zeelabs and Healthcart for selling drugs online without necessary licences. The government isn't satisfied with the responses it got on the show cause notices, said sources. "There can be severe repercussions of allowing sale of drugs via online mode due to China's dominance. Firstly, China may stop supplying necessary medicines in future besides selling substandard medicines," the official stated.

China is a prominent player in India's pharma space as the country imports over 80% bulk drugs or active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs) and other intermediaries from Chinese firms. Industry experts are divided on the Centre's move to put a ban on e-Pharmacies.

"I am in agreement with the government on banning online sale of drugs and medicines. People avoid taking doctors' prescriptions to save money but that comes at a cost of not getting the right medicine. But it will be difficult to enforce complete ban as the chemists won't adhere to it and here will be another black market in the medicine sales which bypasses the law," Samiran Nundy, former head of the department of gastrointestinal surgery at the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) and co-author of the book "Healers or Predators: Healthcare Corruption in India" said,

Zee moves NCLAT against initiation of insolvency process

SACHIN KUMAR @ New Delhi

ZEE stock falls over 14% to ₹176.60

IndusInd Bank had approached NCLT against ZEEL, seeking payment of a default of over ₹89 crore. Siti owes ₹850 crore to a group of 9 lenders. Reacting to the developments, shares of ZEE fell over 14% to ₹176.60, its 52-week low in intra-day trade on the BSE

A day after the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) admitted an insolvency petition against Zee Entertainment Enterprises (ZEE), Punit Goenka, MD and CEO of the company, on Thursday, filed an appeal in the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT), seeking relief against the order passed by Mumbai bench of NCLT.

The events in the last two days have raised doubts over the proposed merger of Zee and Culver Max Entertainment (formerly Sony Pictures Networks India) that will create India's largest entertainment network. "Goenka is taking all the necessary steps as per law, to protect the interests of all stakeholders of Zee Entertainment Enterprises Ltd and to achieve a timely completion of the proposed merger with Culver Max Entertainment Pvt Ltd," said Goenka's office in a statement.

"Goenka firmly believes in the potential of the merger, to deliver immense value to all stakeholders. ZEE is a debt-free and financially strong company, and believes in value creation for its stakeholders," it added. A division bench of judicial member H V Subba Rao and technical member Madhu Sinha had on Wednesday admitted the plea by private sector lender IndusInd Bank and also appointed Sanjeev Kumar Jalan as the resolution professional in the matter.

IndusInd Bank had approached the tribunal against Subhash Chandra-promoted ZEEL, seeking payment of a default of over ₹89 crore. Siti owes a total of ₹850 crore to a group of nine lenders. Reacting to the developments, shares of ZEE fell over 14% to ₹176.60, its 52-week low in intra-day trade on the BSE on Thursday. However, it later recovered most of the early lost ground and ended 3.47% lower at ₹198.75 apiece.

"Admission of insolvency petition against Zee means that the Committee of Creditors will take over the company, which will delay the proposed merger of ZEE and Sony. To solve this issue Zee may have to settle its dues with lenders," a senior official of a Mumbai-based law firm told this newspaper.

ONGC to invest $2 bn to drill 103 wells in Arabian Sea, to add 100 MT output

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Oil and natural gas producer ONGC has said it will invest over $2 billion in drilling 103 wells on its main gas-bearing asset in the Arabia Sea as it aims to add 100 million tonnes to production.

"We have released a record 103 locations for drilling of wells on the Bassein and Satellite (B&S) assets over next 2-3 years," ONGC Director (Offshore) Pankaj Kumar said.

The wells will tap smaller and hereto untapped reservoirs and help raise output. "We estimate that this development drilling will enhance output by over 100 million tonnes of oil and oil equivalent gas over life of the field," he said. "The investment involved in drilling and facilities will be over $2 billion."

ONGC produces two-thirds of all oil and gas produced in India and any incremental production would help the country cut its dependence on imports for meeting energy needs.

We have released a record 103 locations for drilling of wells on Bassein and Satellite assets over next 2-3 years. Investment involved in drilling and facilities will be over $2 billion

Pankaj Kumar, ONGC Director (Offshore)

The state-owned company has three main assets off the west coast - Mumbai High, Heera and Neelam, and Bassein and Satellite, which contributed the bulk of 21.7 million tonnes of oil and 21.68 billion cubic metres of gas it produced in 2021-22. ONGC has seen a gradual decline in output for over a decade, primarily due to its old and ageing fields, but now the giant is working on a comprehensive asset base plan for a turnaround.

Kumar said B&S asset has several fields including prime Bassein gas field, D1 and Tapti-Daman. These currently produce 55,000-56,000 barrels a day (2.8 million tonnes) of oil and 28 million standard cubic metres a day of gas. "We have done a reservoir profiling for the entire asset to plan the drilling campaign," he said, adding new wells will bring additional production that will offset the natural decline in older wells and add to the overall output.

LIC's investment value in Adani stocks down by ₹50,000 crore since January

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

LIC INVESTMENT IN ADANI

LIC's investment in the Group likely to turn negative shortly as its gain has now come down to only about ₹3,000 cr

LIC said its exposure to Adani Group firms is 0.975% of its total assets under management (AUM) at book value

Market value of LIC's investments in Adani Group has come down to ₹33,000 cr as of Feb 23, 2023, from ₹83,000 cr as of Dec 31, 2022

On Jan 24, when Hindenburg published scathing report, LIC's investment value in Adani firms was at ₹81,000 crore

IF some Adani stocks fail to find support shortly, Life Insurance Corporation of India 's (LIC's) investment in Adani Group is likely to turn negative as its gain has now come down to only about ₹3,000 crore because prices of the Group firm stocks have declined substantially in recent months.

Following a rout in Adani stocks after the Hindenburg Research report, the combined market value of LIC's investments in Adani Group has come down to about ₹33,000 crore as on February 23 from nearly ₹83,000 crore as of December 31, 2022.

On January 24, when Hindenburg published its scathing report, LIC's investment value in Adani firmswas valued at ₹81,000 crore.

The assumption is made that the insurer has not bought or sold any stake in Adani companies since January 30, when it had informed that its total purchase value of equity under different Adani Group companies was ₹30,127 crore.

LIC also said its total exposure in Adani Group companies is 0.975% of its total assets under management (AUM) at book value.

Meanwhile, most Adani stocks closed with deep cuts on Thursday. The Group has now lost about ₹12 lakh crore in market capitalisation in one month. LIC owns between 1.28% and 9.14% shares in seven listed Adani firms.

In Adani Ports (APSEZ), in which LIC owns more than 9% stake, the value of its investment has come from ₹15,000 crore as of January 24 to a little less than ₹11,000 crore on February 23.

Similarly, the value of its 4.23% stake in Adani Enterprises has come down from ₹16,500 crore to ₹6,660 crore during the period.

LIC also owns a little less than 6% stake in Adani Total Gas. Since this Adani stock has nose-dived about 80% in the past one month, LIC's investment value here has also reduced from ₹25,500 crore as of January 24 to about ₹5,200 crore.

LIC owns a 3.65% stake in Adani Transmission and 1.28% in Adani Green. The shares of the two firms have fallen 73% each in one month.

LIC's investment in Adani Transmission is now estimated at ₹3,000 crore while in Adani Green it is pegged at about ₹1,000 crore. LIC's loss in Ambuja Cement and ACC is not very severe.

Exports growth to remain tepid in 2023 on slowing global output: FinMin

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FINANCE ministry has predicted that there are chances that India's exports would show slow growth as the major export markets of India are likely to witness sharp decline in 2023.

In its monthly economic review, the ministry says that the "growth of global trade fell in 2022 and is expected to be still lower in 2023 with a further decline in volume and value of trade on the back of slowing global output."

India's merchandise exports have grown by 8.5% in the current financial year (till January 2023) to $369 billion against a 45% growth witnessed in the previous financial year. This year the government had set a target of $450 billion in merchandise exports. The finance ministry report also says that the easing global inflation has had a varying impact on global trade from the first to the second half of 2022.

On inflation, the finance ministry report says that global inflation is likely to moderate gradually over the year, although it will remain higher than pre-pandemic levels.

The monthly economic report further points out that the Budget 2023 has yet again provided a Capex stimulus to growth by increasing the Centre's Capex budget by 33% to ₹10 lakh crore. "By doing this, the government is continuing its push towards investment-driven growth amid global headwinds," it says.

The report says that Centre's capex allocation of ₹10 lakh crore, along with ₹1.3 lakh crore capex loan to states and ₹2.4 lakh crore capex allocation for railways provide employment opportunities, deepen the logistics network, and bolster construction activities in the country.

Flipkart won't give increment to 30% of employees, to impact 4,500 staff

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

E-COMMERCE giant Flipkart has decided not to give increments for top 30% of its employees for January-December 2022 performance development cycle, as per internal communication sent out to the employees. The move is likely to impact nearly 4,500 of its employees in grades 10 and above.

"Given the current macroeconomic situation, we want to be prudent in managing our resources while keeping our employees' best interest in mind," Flipkart chief people officer Krishna Raghavan, in an email, informed employees about the decision.

According to a Flipkart employee, the communication has been concerning the performance development cycle of January 2022 to December 2022 for which the payout is generally made by March.

This step by Walmart-owned Flipkart comes as major tech companies around the world continue to slash their workforce citing bleak outlook. In India, unicorn firms such as BYJU'S, OLA, OYO and Unacademy have in recent months given the pink slip to a significant number of their employees. According to some estimates, more than 70 startups laid off over 20,000 employees in the last 3-4 months.

When contacted, Flipkart spokespersons said about 70% of the employee base will continue to get an increase in their compensation.

"Additionally, our stock option allocation and bonus exercise will continue as is for those who are eligible," the spokesperson said.

NSE gets nod to launch social stock exchange

UNION Asset Management Company (AMC) aims to double its Asset Under Management (AUM) to ₹20,000 crore by the end of next financial year.

The AuM of the AMC currently stands at around ₹10,000 crore. The company is pinning hope on its growing distribution network and more inflow in debt funds this year.

"We are good traction from outside distributors, there are more MFDs (Mutual Fund Distributors) supporting us and some of the bigger MFDs have started working with us," G Pradeepkumar, CEO, Union Mutual Fund told TNIE after releasing a report. "So far the money has come mostly in equity and hybrid funds now this year debt funds will become more popular as interest rate will peak out some time during 2023-24," he added.

The AMC released a report on Thursday which stated that strong private consumption, which currently accounts for 55% of the India's Gross Domestic Product (GDP), will drive country's economic growth over next five years. Titled 'The Elephant dances on', authored by Sanjay Bembalkar and Hardick Bora, co-heads of Equity at Union AMC, the report said Indian economy is not only getting larger but is also projected to grow at a much faster rate compared to other sizeable economies.

The study highlights how India is firmly on the path of achieving economic superiority 'rarely been achieved before'. "A significant 55% of our GDP comes from private consumption. So, when we own more cars, consume more electricity, use more internet, and travel more, it will drive private consumption and government capex to facilitate the same. That's the fuel for economic growth. The elephant dances on." states Sanjay Bembalkar.

Pistol shooter Anish bags bronze in WC

Anish Bhanwala clinched a bronze medal in the men's 25m rapid fire pistol at the ISSF World Cup in Cairo, on Thursday. Italian Massimo Spinella won gold with 32 hits in the medal match, over Clement Bessaguet of France who fell short by two hits. Anish had bowed out in bronze position after 30 shots with 21 hits. Anish's bronze effort meant India finished the World Cup with seven medals, including four gold, to top the standings.

Asian Wrestling C'ships moved out of country

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

IN what could be termed as a major fallout of the ongoing tussle between the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) and the country's star grapplers, the United World Wrestling (UWW) on Thursday has moved the Asian Championships out of India. The event, which was originally scheduled to be held in New Delhi from March 28 to April 2, will now be held in Almaty, Kazakhstan between April 7 and 15. The final dates will be confirmed soon.

"UWW was forced to change the host of the continental championships due to the recent developments in Indian wrestling and a pending inquiry by the Indian sports ministry against the Wrestling Federation of India," the world governing body informed in a statement posted on its official website.

"Astana hosted the 2019 World Championships with grand success and Kazakhstan was the host of the Asian Championships in 2021 as well. The city of Almaty also hosted the third Ranking Series event last year," the statement added.

As had been reported by this daily ever since renowned wrestlers including Olympic and World Championships medallists staged a protest against WFI and its chief last month, there was always uncertainty over hosting the championships given the ongoing turmoil in the country. The wrestlers levelled serious allegations including sexual harassment against the WFI chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh following which the sports ministry constituted an oversight committee to probe the accusations. The committee was initially given four weeks time to submit its report. It was extended by two more weeks on Wednesday.

The committee was also given the responsibility to look after the day-to-day functioning of the federation after its embattled president was asked to step aside till the completion of the probe.

Earlier, the committee had also requested the UWW to push the event to the first week of April. The OC had apparently written to the UWW a few days ago, listing out their concerns, especially due to the hosting of women's boxing World Championships at the same venue, Indira Gandhi Indoor Stadium in New Delhi from March 15 to 26.

However, it is learnt that the wrestlers also wrote to the UWW requesting it not to host the championships in India. The UWW seems to have considered their request by deciding to shift the tournament out of the country seems "Apart from the senior competition, the U-17 and U-23 Asian Championships are set to return to Bishkek, Kyrgyzstan for a second straight year (...)," the statement further added.

Asian wrestling meet likely to be shifted out

As reported by this daily on Feb 22, a day before Thursday's confirmation

EFI decision is fine with me: Fouaad

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Chennai

STAR rider Fouaad Mirza completely understands the Equestrian Federation of India's (EFI) decision to not select him for the upcoming Asian Games. Mirza, who shot into the limelight after winning double silver at the last Games in Mirza, did not give the mandatory selection trials but he didn't give them as the dates were mildly clashing with a bigger event, the World Championships.

This issue had originally cropped up last year when the Asiad and the Worlds were scheduled with not much time to rest and recover before the next event. The federation had also insisted Mirza to give a CCI 2* trial which didn't make much sense as he's somebody who's competent in CCI 4* events. The cut-off to give selection trials finished on February 15 and Mirza, who begins his international season in April, missed the deadline. "I didn't do any selection trials so I can completely understand why I haven't been selected and they have to be fair to everybody," he told this daily from Germany, where he's based. "I wasn't able to give any selection trials because there was a clash with the World Champs. After the Champs, both the horses and me needed some time off to rest and recover. Due to that clash, I wasn't able to do any of the trials. Not upset about it or anything because I didn't attend the trials."

However, the 30-year-old said: "... if a medal is what they want, it possibly works against them to not take a horse and a rider that's competent at CCI 5* level. "But it has to be fair to everybody. One side, if they want a medal perhaps they should try and take me. On the other side, I have not been taken because I haven't done the selection trials so no hard feelings. Wish everyone who has been picked all the best. I'm sure they will do well."

While a few of the riders are considering going to court, Mirza is going nowhere. In fact, he's wondering if it's a blessing in disguise to miss the event. "Everybody is going to court asking for an extension, this that. It's chaos. I'm maybe thinking it's a blessing in disguise to sit this one out or not. The competitor inside me is hungry to go there, I know I can do well. But the old man inside me is maybe 'you are better off sitting this one out."

HOPE TURNS TO DESPAIR FOR INDIA

CAN HOSTS MAKE HISTORY?

AS SOUTH AFRICA TAKE ON ENGLAND IN THE SECOND SEMIFINAL IN NEWLANDS ON FRIDAY, A LOOK...

THE SEMIFINAL JINX

One wouldn't want to use the word choke, but South Africa and semifinals are a long-lost love story. They have never been able to pass that hurdle. Could this home World Cup be the tournament where they actually do it?

BATTING HEAVYWEIGHTS

Australia might have the depth, but England have been the batting heavyweights of this World Cup. They have been proactive with the bat irrespective of the conditions with every player expressing themselves without restriction.

POTENTIAL TO OUTCOME

SA have left out some of their biggest stars, but the team is filled with talent. They are yet to translate that into results on the field. If they will have to look at how they batted against Bangladesh and ensure they don't repeat the same.

Australia's Darcie Brown (C) and wicketkeeper Alyssa Healy (R) celebrate after the dismissal of India's Jemimah Rodrigues on Thursday | AFP

GOMESH S
Express @ Women's T20 World Cup
CAPE TOWN

HARMANPREET Kaur was livid. She had just raced to a 30-ball fifty. India were 133/4 in 14.2 overs, chasing 173 in the semifinal of the 2023 T20 World Cup against Australia. When she walked into bat, India were 28/3. Shafali Verma was sent back, DRS returning an umpires call on a close LBW call. Next to go was Smriti Mandhana. Her arch nemesis, Ashleigh Gardner, accounted for her. Then, Yastika Bhatia was a victim of a horrendous misunderstanding also involving Jemimah Rodrigues. It seemed like Australia were all over India.

But Kaur, with Rodrigues, took the attack head-on. First ball she faced was driven to the cover boundary. Rodrigues stood and bludgeoned Ellyse Perry down the ground. Next over, Kaur brought her famous batswing to the fore, hitting Jess Jonassen over the ropes. It seemed they were in a zone; they were not going to let the Australian bowling attack pile on. They were going to do what they could not in the final of the Commonwealth Games last year.

Over the next 41 balls, they smashed 69 runs, not sparing any one bowler. When they were forging their alliance, Australia, it seemed, were deflated. They were just going through the motions, waiting for the duo to slip up. It never seemed like happening at all. That they played just three dot balls in the 41 balls told the story. They just kept going, until it happened.

Rodrigues, on 43 off 24, tried to uppercut a bouncer from Darcie Brown, but ended up edging it to Alyssa Healy behind the stumps. Her anger at the dismissal was visible, but India had hope. They had Richa Ghosh, who had gotten out only once up until this point. The skipper took charge from there and kept the chase going. Once again, India were back in the mix.

However, this is Australia. This is a team that has won five of the seven T20 World Cups, They have only lost twice since the last edition. All they need is an inch and the moment they have that, they get on top again. And the moment — the one that made Kaur livid — came after 14.4 overs. Her bat got stuck near the crease at the striker's end on her way back to complete a second run. Healy took off the bails and Kaur knew it. After a 34-ball 52, she was so frustrated that she swung her bat, it slipped out of her hand and flew 20 feet from her as she took a long walk back to the dressing room.

From a position of advantage, India had yet again let the momentum go. It was a familiar story over the next five overs as the defending champions built pressure on the Indian lower-order. The end result? The Women in Blue fell short by five runs, with Australia reaching yet another final of the T20 World Cup.

For India, it was a third heartbreak against Australia, in the last three years, including two T20 World Cups and the CWG. Unlike the 2020 final, the recent two had been much closer defeats. While that will hurt more, Kaur did not shy away from looking at the positives. The rise of Ghosh, Rodrigues or the way the team came together to take on what is easily one of the greatest women's sporting teams in the world are positives.

The skipper was confident that they would take all the learnings and build on the promise.

Unwell captain shows way

Just the day before the match, Kaur and some of her teammates were down with fever and had visited the hospital. However, she wanted to be there in the middle. In fact, even her teammates did not know. "Till the team meeting, we didn't even know she was ill," said Rodrigues. "The coaches and obviously, Smriti (Mandhana) knew, but we had no idea. When I stepped out of my room, when I saw her carrying the kit bag, I was like yes! It is not easy, since the time she has come she has been falling sick, having injuries, she was going through mentally a lot," she added.

Brief scores: Australia 172/4 in 20 ovs (Mooney, 54, Lanning 49) bt India 167/8 in 20 ovs (Kaur 52, Rodrigues 43).

Proteas wicketkeeper Jafta 'living the dream'

GOMESH S @ Cape Town

SINALO Jafta had just finished her wicketkeeping drills at the Western Province Cricket Club Ground on Thursday afternoon. In 24 hours, she will be walking onto the field at Newlands Cricket Stadium, wearing the Proteas jersey to take on England in the second semifinal of the 2023 T20 World Cup.

Did Jafta think they would be here before the tournament began? Turns out, she did when they were playing the tri-series against India at East London. "You know, when you dream of something, I imagined it. I got goosebumps as soon as Wolfi (Laura Wolvaardt) hit that four (against Bangladesh), I was like, 'Oh my gosh, it's actually happening.' I mean being at home, and it's happening here? Yeah, it's crazy," laughs Jafta.

While the 28-year-old is living her dream now, it was not what she thought she would be doing when her mother put her in a boarding school at the age of six. She wanted a summer sport and her first choice was hockey. She grew up playing hockey in high school and wanted to represent South Africa at the Olympics one day. At that point, she did not even know there was a women's cricket team. "I remember after hockey practice, athletics practice, I saw the coach training. I used to go bowl and from then, I just started playing for the school," she says.

Interestingly, it was former South African pacer Makhaya Ntini who taught Jafta how to hold the seam. Coming from a similar region and upbringing as him, Ntini was the one who gave Jafta hope that she could play for her country one day. So much so that Jafta wanted to bowl fast and become an all-rounder, but destiny had other ideas. At the time, with no viable replacement for Trisha Chetty, gloves were thrust into her hands. "I wasn't very happy with that, it took me like a year to finally get the gloves. And when I did, I was horrible. I couldn't catch the ball. I learned a lot from the coaches along the way."

Almost ten years later when she ran into Nitini at Gqeberha during the ongoing World Cup, life had come a full circle. "I actually bumped into him during a game and got the biggest hug. I was like, 'Yayyy, I made it'!" For Jafta, this home World Cup feels like a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. "I couldn't have made it without my mom actually sacrificing me to go to boarding school. I mean, she did an exceptional job. Raising my brother and me alone as a teacher, was proper. I know that my mom sacrificed a lot of Saturdays because I don't think I ever had a free weekend when I was younger. Just to see them at the games, so proud," said Jafta.

That beaming smile could not be wiped off her face as she speaks about playing in front of her family in her home ground. "My mom now works for Western Cape Education in the office. Who can say that I played a semifinal at my home ground in Cape Town because I actually play here? For me, to actually be a part of it and be a part of history. It's absolutely incredible," she signed off.

Man City held at Leipzig in Champions League

AFP @ Leipzig

RB LEIPZIG centre-back Josko Gvardiol scored a second-half header, cancelling out Riyad Mahrez's strike to earn a 1-1 with Manchester City in their Champions League last 16 clash on Wednesday. One of the breakout stars of the Qatar World Cup as the cornerstone of Croatia's miserly defence, Gvardiol showed his attacking flair, launching himself above the City defence to head in the equaliser in the 70th minute.

City took the lead after 27 minutes through Mahrez and looked on course for a comfortable away win but their fluency deserted them after the interval in the first leg tie. The home side, who have only lost once in their past 20 games, found their zip in the second half and looked the team most likely to head to the Etihad for the return leg with a victory under their belt.

Murray rallies to overcome Muller in Qatar Open

AFP @ Doha

FORMER tennis World No 1 Andy Murray staged another defiant fightback Thursday to beat French qualifier Alexandre Muller and reach the Qatar Open semifinals.

Murray struggled with heat as he lost the first set 4-6 to Muller but then produced a sizzling masterclass performance to wrap up the next two 6-1, 6-2. The 35-year-old Scot, slowed by surgery on both of his hips, must now take on rising ATP Tour powerhitter Jiri Lehecka, aged 21, who also fought back from a set down to beat top seeded Russian Andrey Rublev. Murray has had a gruelling time in Doha, where he is a two-time winner but a wild card this year.

On Monday, he saved three match points before winning a final-set tie-break against Italian Lorenzo Sonego.

In the second round, Murray was only two points from defeat in the deciding set before surging back to beat Alexander Zverev 7-6 (5), 2-6, 7-5.

Against Muller, Murray won the first game without giving away a point and broke his 26-year-old opponent's first serve, then lost two straight service games as the Frenchman took the first set in 54 minutes.

Murray won a second set in less than 30 minutes and the third in barely 40, as he reached his first semi-final since Stuttgart last June.

There was a dramatic improvement in the veteran's serve and confidence while Muller's collapsed.

Czech Lehecka claimed the biggest win of his career in beating World No 5 Rublev 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

"The past two months have been very great for me," said Lehecka, who also reached the Australian Open quarter finals in January. His performances have seen him shoot up to 52 in the world rankings.

Rublev, the Doha winner in 2020, went out in his opening match in his four previous tournaments. Lehecka said he waited to see his opponent's tactics before speeding up his play. He is known as one of the tour's most powerful hitters.

Belluci retires

RIO DE JANEIRO: Thomaz Bellucci, Brazil's main flagbearer on the men's tennis tour for the last decade, has retired after losing in straight sets to Sebastian Baez 6-3, 6-2 in the first round of the Rio Open. The 35-year-old is now preparing to transition into coaching.
